

HITLER SAYS GERMANY IS FOR DISARMAMENT

Most World Capitals React Favorably To Roosevelt's Appeal

(International News Service.) President Roosevelt's appeal yesterday for disarmament met with almost universal approval in world capitals, the only discordant note coming from Japan.

Germany welcomed the president's initiative, believing it will inspire the Geneva disarmament conference to genuine efforts in behalf of arms limitation.

France professed to see in Roosevelt's appeal a definite warning to Hitlerite Germany that she must not rearm and saw no criticism at all of the French military establishment.

Great Britain was delighted at Roosevelt's acceptance of the disarmament plan of Premier MacDonald and King George himself will express his approval in a message to the American president.

Italy, it is unofficially stated, will approve Roosevelt's proposals in toto.

Japanese military circles, however, objected to approval of the MacDonald disarmament plan, which they oppose, and also to the president's plea for an agreement against invasion, citing "abnormal conditions" in China.

Weather Delays Farmers But Little

Excessive Rainfall This Spring Has Replenished Sub-Soil McCulloch Finds

Excessive rains this spring have failed to inconvenience Lawrence county farmers to any great extent, County Farm Agent Harold C. McCulloch stated today.

Approximately fifty per cent of the oats crop is already in, he stated, and if the weather warms up now and the ground dries out quickly, there will still be ample time to get the crops in. Most of the farmers have not been worrying much over the weather, it was stated.

This spring has found the subsoil replenished with moisture which was taken out during the drought of 1930, and which had not been put back again. This has been pleasing to the farmers, and even should the coming summer be a dry one, the ground will be well saturated underneath.

Indications at the present time point to a banner year for crops McCulloch believes.

Treasurer Pitts Announces Plans On License Pleas

To Hold Public Hearings At Court House On All License Applications

HE MUST DETERMINE APPLICANT'S FITNESS

Must Be Satisfied With Bond And Place Where Beer Is To Be Sold

After a conference with his attorney, J. Glenn Berry, on the methods of procedure in issuing beer license applications, County Treasurer William O. Pitts announced this morning that public hearings will be held at which the applicants may be represented by their attorneys.

The hearings will take place between May 24th, the last day on which applications can be filed, and June 1st. They will be held in court room number 2.

The object of the hearings will be to enable the treasurer to form an opinion as to the fitness of the applicant, the nature of the business which he proposes, or is conducting, the size of his room and the accommodations for the general public.

There will also be the question of the bond offered by the applicant. This must be in the sum of $1,000. If the bond is given by a surety company, it must be a company of recognized financial resources. If it is an individual bond, it must be signed by at least two property owners, and there must be a certificate of title from an attorney, showing the indebtedness, if any, against the property of the bondsmen.

Each applicant will be required to have the names of twelve citizens attached to his applications. These citizens must certify that they know the applicant and believe him to be a fit person to handle the business.

No Extended Hearing

Treasurer Pitts said this morning that he does not expect to go into any extended hearings, but he wants sufficient evidence produced to enable him to know the character of the applicant, so that he may know if he is a "fit person to trust with the responsibility."

Licenses are to be granted to hotels, clubs and bonafide eating places, with 30 square feet of floor. (Continued On Page Two)

Commissioners Hear Coal Field Charges And Butler's Defense

Sitting en banc, the three Lawrence county commissioners, F. O. Elder, A. E. Conner and F. R. Woods, heard the charges preferred against Mark Butler, county coal field superintendent, Tuesday afternoon, and after some three hours of testimony announced a recess until Butler could be given the opportunity to produce documentary evidence tending to show his innocence. Sitting with the commissioners was their solicitor, John P. Lockhart.

Butler is accused of having taken money from truckers employed to haul coal from the county field. Mr. Butler denied all of the charges in his testimony.

Jury room number one, where the hearing was held, was filled to sufficiency with spectators and a large number were forced to stand out in the hallway. Several times the crowd nearly got out of hand and Solicitor Lockhart finally called for the sheriff to keep order. After that there was no more disturbance. Butler was represented by Attorney Edwin K. Logan, and the protesting group, composed of citizens representing the Taxpayers' league, the

Need To Govern Distribution Of National Fund

By ARTHUR C. WILDER, Special Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—Pennsylvania's share of the $400,000,000 for highways called for in President Roosevelt's public works program will be determined by a dictator upon a basis of need rather than population, mileage and area.

Under existing law, federal aid highway money is allocated to the various states upon a basis of population, area and mileage. No such standard, however, will be used by the president in his public works program. It is understood that an official with authority directly from the president will divide the road funds among the various states according to need rather than by any fixed index.

With distress and unemployment at high tide in Pennsylvania, it is probable this change of policy will result in increased appropriations for the Keystone state.

Agrees To MacDonald Plan Of Disarmament—Lashes Versailles Treaty

By ARNOLD BOSCH-FLEUROT, International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 17.—Chancellor Adolf Hitler this afternoon announced Germany's acceptance of President Roosevelt's disarmament proposals in a speech to the Reichstag, marked by its conciliatory tone.

He agreed to proceed toward disarmament along the lines suggested at Geneva by Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, whose disarmament proposals were recommended to the world yesterday by the American president.

While demanding complete equality for Germany with the other nations of Europe, Chancellor Hitler insisted this need not be achieved by increasing her armaments.

While he said Germany would not hesitate to withdraw from the League of Nations if she is held down as a "constantly defamed nation," Chancellor Hitler expressed the hope the world would realize the justice of Germany's equality demands.

Two Constructive Offers

His speech contained two constructive offers.

"First, to dissolve the entire German army and destroy all its arms if the other nations will do likewise.

Second, to cooperate with others in achieving disarmament through the Roosevelt, MacDonald, Mussolini plans, providing Germany is granted equality."

In the latter event, Hitler said, Germany is willing to reorganize her army within five years in accordance with the MacDonald proposal. (Continued On Page Two)

Chinese Blow Up Bridge At Tientsin

(International News Service.) SHANGHAI, May 17.—In an attempt to prevent a Sino-Japanese rapprochement, Chinese "die-hards" today blew up a railway bridge near Tientsin.

Officials announced they had proved the destruction of the bridge was connected with an attempt to wreck a train carrying General Hwang Fu, Nanking's minister to North China, bearing armistice proposals to a rendezvous with Japanese officials.

Fighting, meanwhile, has slackened in North China as the Japanese await suggestions from Nanking regarding cessation of hostilities.

Meanwhile, official circles were rocked with rumors that Peiping and Tientsin will be destroyed by the Chinese before they are abandoned, should the Japanese-Manchurian invaders press that far south.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The welcome sight of Old Sol peeping brightly from the skies was a cheering sight to everyone in Lawrence County this morning. It gave indication of lasting for a time, too. There have been all too few days during the past two weeks that the sun has been out very long.

Parking space in front of The News office on North Mercer street is becoming sort of a cross road of the nation. Within the past 24 hours cars have been parked in front of The News office bearing license plates, not only from Pennsylvania and Ohio, but from New York, Massachusetts, Oklahoma and West Virginia.

Workmen started to work yesterday in tearing away the north walk of the West Washington street bridge, in preparation for extensive repairs. The guard railing and plank walk were removed. The work is continuing today.

Apparently the reforestation recruits from counties surrounding Lawrence are to gather here on Friday morning to make their departure to the conditioning camps. Pa. JAPAN UNFRIENDLY TO ROOSEVELT MESSAGE

Japan To Seek Reservations

No Official Reply As Yet Made By Japan To Appeal

JAPAN'S ARMIES NOW IN CHINA

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17.—President Roosevelt's proposal for a world peace pact today encountered its first major obstacle in the threat of Japanese refusal to adhere without reservations.

Japan's probable demand for reservations became known following a visit to the State department of Katsujii Dehuchi, the Japanese ambassador.

Dehuchi called on under Secretary of State Phillips and although the primary purpose of the visit was said to be in connection with the coming visit of Viscount Ishii, it was learned the Japanese ambassador discussed the president's proposal.

Japan, it was said, will be unable to accept unconditionally certain parts of the president's proposal owing to the situation in Manchuria and South China, where Japan's armies are now engaged in aiding the puppet state of Manchukuo to crush Chinese resistance.

President Roosevelt proposed that all the nations agree not to send armed forces across frontiers except where such movements are provided in existing treaties.

Tokyo, May 17.—Although official comment was still awaited, Japanese army circles today accorded President Roosevelt's appeal for world peace an unfriendly reception.

The proposal that no nation permit its army to cross its frontiers drew particular criticism from one officials, who claimed China's "abnormality" made application of President Roosevelt's message to the country impossible.

The Japanese government will refrain from making official comment on the message until it is handed to emperor Hirohito by Foreign Minister Uchida.

CONCILIATORY TONE MARKS REICHSTAG SPEECH OF HITLER

gram and dissolve her auxiliary police before the end of 1933.

Hitler ascribed all of Germany's troubles and the woes of the world at large to the treaty of Versailles, which he said created new wounds instead of healing the old ones.

He lashed out at the security demands of France and the little Entente powers.

"France, Poland, Czechoslovakia have thousands of fighting planes, tanks and poison gases," he said.

"Does not Germany have more right to demand security than her highly armed interlarded neighbors?"

No Aggressive Aims:

Germany, Chancellor Hitler said, has no aggressive aims.

"She is ready to join in any new non-aggression pact and to participate in a joint movement recognizing the United States as the guarantor of peace," he said.

"Germany is thinking only of security. She will never ratify an agreement eternalizing her demoralization."

Hitler called upon the Allies to fulfill their pledges under the Versailles Treaty, declaring that Germany had "disarmed" beyond reason.

"Germany is ready to agree to a five year transitory period to reform her army in accordance with the MacDonald plan, if she is given equality when those five years have passed."

"She is ready to consent to co-operate, as reconstruction without disarmament is impossible."

Wish For Peace:

"Germany's one wish is for peace and independence."

Hitler finished his address at 4:02 P. M. (11:02 A. M. E. D. T.) with a fervent plea for world cooperation.

"May the nations," he said, "find a way to a real understanding on the basis of equal rights."

The Reichstag immediately passed a resolution endorsing the Chancellor's announced foreign policies in full and then joined in singing "Deutschland Ueber Alles."

Distinguished Audience:

The former German crown prince in full uniform, his son, Prince Louis Ferdinand and his wife, and numerous other dignitaries, were among the prominent spectators who assembled in the Kroll opera house to hear the momentous address.

Also present was Prince August Wilhelm, youngest son of the former Kaiser, who is an enthusiastic Nazi.

He wore an ordinary brown shirt uniform, as did the solid block Nazi deputies who occupied seats in the center of the historic opera house.

The theatre was a vast expanse of brown-shirted figures, tense with expectancy.

There was one brief salvo of applause as Hitler entered the opera house at 3:13 p. m. Hitler strode to the tribune, took his place before an immense Swastika flag and signalled for silence.

The deputies sank into their seats and subsided into absolute silence. Captain Hermann Wilhelm Goering, speaker of the Reichstag, stepped forward and opened the session in a few crisp words.

"German men and women," Goering said, "the Reichstag has been summoned in this serious hour to decide the fate of the nation."

"Rarely has there been such a fateful hour."

The cabinet wishes to place its aims before the whole nation and the world's States.

Hitler Starts Speaking:

Hardly had Goering's words died out when Chancellor Hitler stepped forward on the tribune and began speaking.

Necks were craned forward as he started to talk. Chiefs of the Reichswehr and the navy seated behind the tribune were among the keenest listeners.

Goering's words depicted the fate of Germany's military aims.

"It is the desire of the government," Hitler said, "to take its problems out of the sphere of passion."

The present crisis has its origin in the post-war passions—passions which have darkened intelligence since the dawn of justice.

As anticipated, Hitler promptly lashed out at the peace treaties signed at the close of the war as the chief causes of Germany's unrest and difficulties.

"All our troubles," he said, "originated with the treaty of Versailles."

The chancellor read his speech from a manuscript, speaking in an even, clear voice. He wore a white shirt under his brown tunic.

Early in his speech, Chancellor Hitler displayed a conciliatory tone.

"New application of force," he said, "would only lead to disturbance of the balance of power in Europe and dislocation of the existing order."

This declaration moved the former crown prince to enthusiastic applause, in which the deputies joined.

"New wars, new sacrifices and new insecurity for Germany or its drowning in a bolshevist chaos would cause unforeseeable crises," Hitler continued.

most continuous cheers, "should heal wounds and not make new ones."

"It would have been possible to make a treaty acceptable and reasonable to the claims of Poland and one that would still have been bearable to Germany."

In his remarks on the treaty of Versailles, Hitler said:

"The Versailles treaty contains the germ of new conflicts."

Germany's problems and those of Europe, he said, are largely economic.

Chief Source of Trouble:

"Overproduction in western Europe and lack of materials comprise the chief source of troubles," he said.

"Instead of reparations, the peace treaties might better have given people the right to work."

"It is unintelligent to deprive people of the possibility of living."

"It is absurd to crush the economic life of sixty million persons, leading to catastrophe for all."

"The policy of reparations developed an abnormal export dumping, resulting in the most serious crisis of modern times."

"The treaty of Versailles put France and accounting over economic reason."

"Germany has fulfilled her obligations to the point of suicide."

"Germany," Hitler continued when a burst of prolonged applause had given him a brief rest, "is willing to take on obligations beyond the Versailles Treaty, the Locarno Pact and the Kellogg Pact."

"What more obligations are asked?"

"Germany is ready at any time to take over more obligations."

"She is ready to dissolve her entire army and destroy her arms, if the other nations will do likewise."

Willing To Concede:

"Germany does not want any more than she is ready to concede others."

"As long as the others are unwilling to fulfill their treaty obligations, Germany must be conceded at least equality."

"For this, the MacDonald disarmament plan furnishes a possible basis."

"Germany is sincerely thankful for the plan of President Roosevelt."

"She is ready to consent to co-operate, as reconstruction is impossible without disarmament."

"Germany is willing to agree to a five year transitory period to reform her army in accordance with the MacDonald plan, if she is given equality when those five years have passed."

"Germany is willing to renounce her demands for offensive weapons if the other nations will do likewise."

"Germany's one wish is for peace and independence."

Hitler called attention to the steps Germany has taken in behalf of disarmament, such as demilitarization of the Rhineland zone, limitation of the German army and navy, and strict military control.

What Security Has Germany?

"What security has Germany?" he asked.

"France, Poland and Czechoslovakia have thousands of fighting planes, tanks and poison gases."

"Does not Germany have more right to demand security than her highly armed interlarded neighbors?"

"But Germany is willing to place her political associations (Nazi storm troops, Steelhelmets, etc.) under control if others do likewise in order to prove they have no military character."

"The world is disrupted," Hitler declared, "because it is divided into victors and vanquished."

"Germany demands for disarmament for all is based first of all on moral reason, as disarmament in Germany must be followed by disarmament in other nations."

"Discrimination against a great people cannot last forever."

"The German people will live as have the French and Poles. No nation can have more understanding for newly recreated nations than has young Germany."

"Fear of German aggressions cannot be the reason for French and Polish armaments."

No Aggressive Aims:

"Germany has no aggressive aims."

"She is ready to join in any new non-aggression pact. Germany is thinking only of security. She is further ready to join in a joint movement to recognize the United States as a guarantor of peace."

"But Germany will never ratify an agreement eternalizing her demoralization. If attempts are made to force any such ratification, the world will find that Germany will not budge."

"Germany will not sign her own condemnation."

JAPAN UNFRIENDLY TO ROOSEVELT MESSAGE

Japan To Seek Reservations

No Official Reply As Yet Made By Japan To Appeal

JAPAN'S ARMIES NOW IN CHINA

By KINGSBURY SMITH International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17.—President Roosevelt's proposal for a world peace pact today encountered its first major obstacle in the threat of Japanese refusal to adhere without reservations.

Japan's probable demand for reservations became known following a visit to the State department of Katsujii Debuchi, the Japanese ambassador.

Debuchi called on under Secretary of State Phillips and although the primary purpose of the visit was said to be in connection with the coming visit of Viscount Ishii, it was learned the Japanese ambassador discussed the president's proposal.

Japan, it was said, will be unable to accept unconditionally certain parts of the president's proposal owing to the situation in Manchuria and South China, where Japan's armies are now engaged in aiding the puppet state of Manchukuo to crush Chinese resistance.

President Roosevelt proposed that all the nations agree not to send armed forces across frontiers except where such military movements are provided in existing treaties.

Tokyo, May 17.—Although official comment was still awaited, Japanese army circles today accorded President Roosevelt's appeal for world peace an unfriendly reception.

The proposal that no nation permit its army to cross its frontiers drew particular criticism from any officials, who claimed China's "abnormality" made application of President Roosevelt's message to the orient impossible.

The Japanese government will refrain from making official comment on the message until it is handed to emperor Hirohito by Foreign Minister Uchida.

DORCAS CLASS HAS MOTHERS' BANQUET

Among the interesting mother-daughter events of the week was that of the Dorcas class of the First Congregational church, when the members entertained their mothers at a chicken dinner at 1502 Highland avenue, Tuesday evening at 6:30 with Miss Hanna Richards, teacher of the class, as the invoker. Each mother's place was marked by a plant.

Mrs. William Jones acted as toastmistress and the toast to the mothers was given by Miss Hanna Richards and the response was made by Mrs. Thomas Gray. Mrs. Mary Hopkins Evans gave a piano number, Mrs. Roy Nelson had a vocal selection; the class sang a lovely song to the mothers after which Mrs. Carrie Jeffries Roberts gave a most interesting talk of her travels and showed the collection of dolls she has from all the countries in which she has travelled.

Bingo was the amusement of the later hours and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Elizabeth Leyde, Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Mrs. Thomas Gray, Mrs. Isaac Isaacs, Mrs. G. W. Thomas, Mrs. Mary Richards, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Albert Hoyland, Mrs. Tom Hopkins, Mrs. Carrie Roberts, Mrs. T. D. Thomas, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mrs. Harry Davis and Mrs. John Smith.

Annual Meeting Of Federated Clubs

The final meeting of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs held Tuesday in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A., was in the form of an all day session starting with registration at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The Reading Circle was the hostess club and carried out their duties to perfection.

Mrs. S. D. Pearson, president of the Federation, presided.

At the conclusion of registration at 10:30 routine work was in progress. The usual opening was carried out followed with a brief but impressive welcome given by Mrs. Fred Smith.

Mrs. Paul Howe, newly appointed chairman of American Home Work of the South Western District spoke on "The School of Family Relationship of the Department of the American Home of State Federation of Pennsylvania Women" which will be held at Dickinson College at Carlisle, Pa. June 26-30. She touched on the desired abolishment of the sweat shops and the institution of the department for Juniors.

Mrs. Samuel Cuthbert, of Wilkesburg spoke fluently on the "Motion Pictures" project. She is chairman in Allegheny County.

Mrs. Charles Greer, explained the Brookhart Bill No. 1079 at this time and a motion was carried for its endorsement by the club women.

A resolution was adopted by the federation urging that no retrenchment be made in public service that would undermine our school program or endanger the future of the boys and girls of Pennsylvania. The resolution will be forwarded to Dr. Jas. N. Rule, superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. H. H. Rosenblatt, the possessor of a lovely soprano voice, rendered two selections with Mrs. E. O. Fankhauser, accompanist.

Mrs. James G. Chaffey, of Pittsburgh, president of the South-Western District of Federation gave greetings and announced the meeting to be held October 9-13 in the William Penn Hotel for Federated club women at Pittsburgh.

During this period Miss Emma Gibbons, pianist, and instructor of the Terrace School and Mike Wastlin, a student who plays a harmonica, rendered several selections.

Promptly at 2 o'clock a program of unusual merit was given. Mrs. Ezra Marvin and a group of her Federation Juniors who recently organized were introduced by Mrs. Pearson. They acted as singers.

Mrs. Pearson, addressed the women co-workers for the unequalled support given during the first year of her presidency and expressed in well chosen words her deep and sincere appreciation.

A handsome scrapbook made by Art Club members was explained by Mrs. J. A. McNeill, president. Mrs. Pearson awarded the club an exquisite painting by Pizani as the prize. This she secured in her travels in Italy. The book will be shown at the Federation meeting in October held at Pittsburgh.

The musical program was turned over to Terry Carson, instructor of music in East High School, Youngstown, O., who brought with him three talented students. They were James Twilario, pianist; Donald Scapp, violinist who has been awarded a scholarship of four years to a Cincinnati school of music; and Thaddeus Foremsky, flute. They played a number of selections in a fine manner.

An enthusiastic and inspiring talk was given by Mrs. Joan M. Phillips of Pittsburgh, vice-president of the State Federated Clubs. Her theme was: "The Salvation of the World depends on Organized Women" centering principally on "Reality Values" in the home and community.

Mrs. Edward T. Macdonnell, president of the Youngstown Federation of Women's Clubs was the next speaker. She had for her subject "When Women Co-Operate" and told of the many changes made socially etc., within the past two years, the beginning and organizing of women's clubs, cleaning and high thinking affects the home, thus the nation.

LEGION AUXILIARY HONORS MOTHERS

With 85 members and their mothers present, the annual mother's banquet, held in the Legion Home last evening by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Perry S. Gaston post was one of the most enjoyable events in the auxiliary's history.

Following the tureen dinner, served at 6:30, a program was carried out, the feature of which was the presentation of a potted plant to the oldest and youngest auxiliary member present, Mrs. Simon Hartman being honored as the oldest member and Mrs. James Cooper as the youngest. The presentations were made by Mrs. Chauncey Davis. In addition, a beautiful bouquet was given to Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds, who was the oldest mother present. The following program was carried out:

Invocation—Mrs. Joseph Arentz, chaplain of the auxiliary.
Toast to Mothers—Mrs. Orville Potter.

Response—Mrs. Simon Hartman.
Solo—"What a Friend we Have in Mother"—Mrs. A. C. Dietterle.
Reading—"Mother"—Mary E. Allen.

Duet—"Mother's Prayer," Harry Jones and Fred Riley accompanied by Mrs. Carl Turner.
Recitation—"The Ways of Mother"—Betty Jane Davis.

Solo—"Just a little street where old friends meet"—Harry Jones accompanied by Mrs. Turner.
Reading—Anna May McConnell.
Recitation—"My Mother"—Evelyn Feltso.

Solo—"Old Black Joe" Fred Riley accompanied by Mrs. Turner.
In conclusion, Mrs. Orville Potter gave a general talk on the theme of mothers.

Plans were made during the evening for the annual joint memorial service to be held in connection with the post for all Legionnaires and their wives, which will be held on the evening of June 2.

Dorcas Class Has Mothers' Banquet

Among the interesting mother-daughter events of the week was that of the Dorcas class of the First Congregational church, when the members entertained their mothers at a chicken dinner at 1:02 Highland avenue, Tuesday evening at 6:30 with Miss Hanna Richards, teacher of the class asking the invocation. Each mother's place was marked by a plant.

Mrs. William Jones acted as toast-mistress and the toast to the mothers was given by Miss Hanna Richards and the response was made by Mrs. Thomas Gray. Mrs. Mary Hopkins Evans gave a piano number, Mrs. Roy Nelson had a vocal selection; the class sang a lovely song to the mothers after which Mrs. Carrie Jeffries Roberts gave a most interesting talk of her travels and showed the collection of dolls she has from all the countries in which she has traveled.

Bingo was the amusement of the later hours and prizes were awarded Mrs. Elizabeth Leyde, Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Mrs. Thomas Gray, Mrs. Isaac Isaacs, Mrs. G. W. Thomas, Mrs. Albert Hoyland, Mrs. Tom Hopkins, Mrs. Carrie Roberts, Mrs. T. D. Thomas, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mrs. Harry Davis and Mrs. John Smith.

The committee which successfully arranged for the affair included Mrs. Herbert Hoyland, Miss Melvina Davies and Mrs. Mary Hopkins Evans.

A. N. Club Guests at Guinagh Residence

Miss Blanche Guinagh was a pleasing hostess Tuesday evening when she entertained at her home on West Washington street members of the A. N. Club.

The hours were devoted to a contest in bridge, lovely prizes for honors being awarded to the Misses Angella Barnes and Martha Watson. At conclusion of play, they were invited into the dining room where a delicious repast was served, the table being suggestive of the season, in its appointments.

In three weeks Miss Watson on Delaware avenue will entertain at her residence.

ROOSEVELT'S CHALLENGE FOR PEACE

STRIKING with speed and drama, President Roosevelt on Tuesday challenged the nations of the entire world to outlaw offensive weapons of warfare, and to enter into a solemn covenant not to invade each other's territory.

He addressed a moving appeal for peace to the sovereigns of 54 nations by cable, and later, in a special message to congress informing it of his action, declared he was impelled to this dramatic step because "selfish and short-sighted" interests are menacing the political and economic stability of the world.

Coming as it did in the face of real warfare in South America and Asia, and threatened war in Europe, and on the eve of Adolph Hitler's expected gun-rumbling speech to the German Reichstag, the president's action created an international sensation.

The failure of any country to join "with genuine sincerity" in this undertaking, he told his fellow sovereigns, will permit the world to fix the responsibility for conflict where it belongs.

To the congress, he said: "The way to disarm is to disarm. The way to prevent invasion is to make it impossible." This he proposed to do by eliminating completely all offensive weapons of war such as heavy mobile artillery, tanks, airplanes and poison gases, in accordance with the McDonald plan of disarmament.

Congress hailed the president's step with approval. Paens of praise were heaped upon it by the Democrats. The Republicans were skeptical of its results, but lauded the undertaking as a step in the right direction, and the people of the nation at large are hopeful that it will prove a powerful step in the direction of world peace.

TELLING IT TO CONGRESS

Another movement within congress to eliminate the mileage graft practiced by that body has been launched, this time by Representative Cannon of Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin member proposes that the present traveling expenses of 15 cents a mile allowed congressmen be reduced to five cents. The latter figure, he said, would be half a cent a mile more than the actual amount, as shown by investigation, required in traveling to and from sessions. He pointed out that in the 72nd session the California delegation received $47,000 for traveling expenses, which was more than $41,000 in excess of the actual cost.

Representative Cannon then told the house a truth that ought to have taken some of the self-conceit out of the members.

"It is such practices as this," he said, "coupled with the daily clownish antics for which both houses are noted, that bring the congress of the United States into such universal disrepute and disrespect with the American people."

That this reprimand was merited can not be disputed by anyone who follows congressional practices and proceedings. There is little hope, though, that it will succeed either in eliminating the traveling-expense graft or "clownish antics."

BANKING REFORM

The American people favor legislation that will prevent bank failures, but they can't agree as to just how it should be done. While they are disputing, and arguing, business lags. But now a commission of the American Banking association has come forward with a 15 point plan, to put the banks of the country on a better basis.

There is a tendency in the banking business, as in all forms of activity, for people to go to extremes. At times when there is a need and reason for liberal extension of credit, people may have become so cautious that they won't extend the credit that is really needed and justified by business conditions.

And then there are times when people have been stepping high, when they should be more conservative and cut down their speed. But at that time people may be so confident that loans can be had without adequate security. The report comes from many other sections that in the boom days it was very easy for people to borrow large amounts without careful scrutiny of the proposition they were offering.

The American people have been inflated with get-rich-quick spirits. Their minds have been on big interest rates, big profits. They were willing to risk the principal of their money, for one or two per cent extra interest. That kind of thing is a losing game. The recommendations of the Bankers' commission should help get American banking on a rock bottom basis, on which a new foundation of prosperity for all can be constructed.

HOW FORESTRY WORK WILL AID THE NATION

Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, predicts that putting 250,000 men in national and State forests will add millions of dollars to the value of American forested areas. He holds that forest protection work alone will reduce annual fire losses by $18,000,000, and says that thousands of acres will be added to the timbered natural resources of the country.

He cites three types of labor which will keep the civilian corps employed; forest protection, which includes the construction of fire guard cabins and emergency fire-control landing fields forest improvement, to include tree planting, thinning out of undesirable trees and the destruction of insects and disease-breeding material and forest flood control and soil erosion work to protect or improve existing forested areas. The net result of all this will be to permit the Forest Service to complete its ten-year forest improvement schedule in two years. His contention is that the boys in the conservation construction camps will be fighting for the welfare of their country just as they would be if they were part of the armed forces of the Nation.

But will will interest the average citizen most is that the country is getting a substantial return for what it is doing for the men in the conservation camps. It comes under the head of legitimate employment; it decreases the number of the unemployed and it is a distinct contribution to the future welfare of the country.

WERE YOU A LOSER?
Perhaps you lost heavily in the stock market crash.

It may be a small amount, as large sums are now considered, but it represented many days of work and self-denial to make the investment.

The stock market is a sort of speculation in which a novice should not indulge, putting all he has in a jeopardy.

Perhaps you are buying several articles on the installment plan.

This was made necessary because you were saving to buy stocks.

It would have been better for you to pay off your indebtedness and then if having saved the interest you must include in the deferred payment system, you might have been safe from such devastating loss.

But you could not see it that way.

You were carried away with stories of a soaring market and easy money.

A small wage earner has no business playing with stock.

Smaller saving and investment plans, with a sure return, may be a slower way to accumulate—but there are fewer regrets.

You took unwarranted chances, and stand to lose.

For the man of small capital, it is a ruinous practice to play the market.

As a loser, you have learned a lesson which will be valuable to you.

The United States usually gets the worst of when its representatives go to conferences with European statesmen. Those boys over there make statelessness a life business and the boys we send over there are just putty in their experienced hands. We always shiver when anybody in this country holds a conference with foreign envoys—and this includes our president. He hasn't said much about what happened when the debt evaders called on him.

IS IT THE SON'S FAULT?

A reader writes: "I should like to see an editorial by you on the proper attitude of a successful business man to his son."

"I have read of those who boast of the success of men whom they started as office-boys" one man said that he always interviewed each applicant and personally made the selection. I have always noted that when some of these men peep out of the business, the former office-boy takes their job.

"These same executives have sons who also enter the business. They are privileged characters, and the father who will take an office-boy to task for tardiness does not seem to mind what his own son does. So with few exceptions, our big executives have sons that could not hold their jobs were it not for their father's influence."

"Why is this? Is it the son's fault? Why do these fathers not give their sons the same training they give their office-boys? It seems to me as a father that nothing could be more worthwhile than to have a son whom I could honestly look at with pride, and know that he is a better man than his dad and that I had helped a little in the training."

Before we judge the father too harshly, let us see what a difficult proposition he is up against. Social pressure forces him to send the boy to college for four years whether or not the boy is the type to be benefited by college. This has resulted in the common saying, "Too many boys are sent to college and not enough go."

The average teachers do not train the pupil to think. They want memory, and you would almost think the boy had a key for a head if they pour in facts and information and then if they can open the spigot and the same facts and information come out, they are thoroughly satisfied with the job. It matters not whether the boy understands it all and has done any thinking or not.

It was someone who said "Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting, get understanding." If the teachers would forget the painful memorizing operation and see to it that the student understood the proposition, it would make the acquisition of a so-called education a much more enjoyable affair for both student and teacher. If we understand a thing and are interested in it, we do not need to worry about memory.

While the son of the well-to-do man is having everything made easy for him and is swimming around in the globe with the other goldfish, the office-boy is out in the deep waters of life and has to swim or sink on his own initiative.

The office-boy has the advantage of watching real executives in actual operation; whereas, the well-to-do boy is in a Business Administration School listening to theories on how to function as an executive.

It is not so much a question as to whether or not the boy has a college education, the real point at issue is: has he been trained to think? These are the four best years of his life, and if he has not been trained to think, he has been cheated out of the best equipment for success.

Social pressure almost forces the father to give his boy everything that other boys have, whether it is good for him or not.

A prize fighter is developed by fighting, and we cannot shield and protect a boy from every experience that would develop him and then complain when the boy does not emerge a trained fighter.

The successful father who wishes to do the best he can for his son should make sure that his son really belongs in his business before he offers him a desk in the office or a job in the shop. Some young men prefer to work out their own destiny away from the indulgent coddling of the father. What they can achieve by their own effort is theirs and no one can deny them credit.

Furthermore, a man who can wisely train an employee to whom he is not related may be a sad failure in handling his own son. Such weakness should be recognized, and if the son is brought into the business, he should be put under an official who can properly instruct and stimulate him.

Probably every successful father cherishes the hope that his son will follow in his own footsteps and carry on to a greater goal, but this ambition should be tempered. If the son isn't made of the same stuff as the father, it is worse than useless to try to fit the "round peg in the square hole," but the son may still win a happy life if he is allowed to develop in his own way.

"It is a mistake to imagine that all office-boys rise to presidencies. When college-trained boys rise to the top they do not attract so much attention. The human element is one factor that can never be standardized."

Partnership With Industry
Roosevelt Plan Is Discussed

President's Address, Outlining Proposed Federal Supervision Of Methods Of Production, Called Forceful Presentation Of Subject

President Roosevelt's proposal that the government act in partnership with various forms of production, as given in a radio address, is made the subject of a wide variety of comments. Industries and agriculture, as suggested by him, would be self-governing, but the action would furnish the compulsion under which minorities would be deprived of power. Adequate wage scales are expected and withdrawal of some provisions of the anti-trust laws is considered. Many editors believe that, under the plan, employment would be provided for an increased number of persons.

"It will make the United States a country of greater security for capital and of a larger reward and happier living conditions for labor," thinks the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, while the ATLANTA JOURNAL, viewing this project with other policies of the Administration, offers the verdict: "Although new in method, they are as old in principle as the genius of American democracy. They are practical applications of a philosophy of government made to serve the people." The HAVESVILLE GAZETTE suggests that the plan "gives private enterprise a virtual dictatorship in the nation's life" while the ROCKFORD REGISTER-PUBLIC feels that it is "basically much more American in principle than the original 30-hour week bill, which sought to make the government a virtual dictator over the nation's industries."

"The President," says the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "said that well considered and conservative measures will be proposed to give the industrial workers of the country a fair wage return, and to put an end to cut-throat and unfair competition. If he means it, the nation is likely to cure itself very largely." Declaring that the plan "has impressed the country," the BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD states that "the bewilderment in our industrial life today is ample proof that some sort of planning and some system of symmetrical order and development must supplant the system that brought us to this plight." It is called "revolutionary" by the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD which adds: "Whether we like it or not, it seems necessary, unavoidable. At least, some consolation is that it is not an emergency is passed. But it is extremely doubtful if there will ever be a return to the old, unrestrained order."

Pointing out that the partnership will not extend to profits or sales, the CLEVELAND NEWS adds that there will be no curtailment of individual initiative, either in trade or labor, but that "the aim is to get the various groups in industry to controlling themselves." The PORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM observes that the aim of the Roosevelt policy is "to make an umpire of the government."

That is so long as the industries play the game and keep within the rules, the umpire will not be called upon to penalize either players or teams. Needed changes in the anti-trust laws to permit such co-operation are suggested by the ROCHESTER UNION, the SALT LAKE DESERT NEWS, the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS and the OSHKOSH DAILY NORTH-WESTERN.

"Control, or partnership," according to the SAN ANTONIO EX-PRESS, "is proposed only in industry shall get its wings, so that it can go its own way alone, and that it can be a co-operative enterprise; prosperity cannot be conferred from above; the people must create it for themselves." The PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN contends: "There is a happy medium between encouragement of monopolistic enterprise and the legal fostering of atrocious competitive waste, and that medium is to be sought and should be found by reasonable government participation in the effort of business to help itself." The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL appraises the Administration's "pro-business and not anti-business," and the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL attests the approval of the idea by the United States Chamber of Commerce, while the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) REPUBLICAN sees a similarity to the War Industries Administration.

CLANAPOLIS NEWS states that the plan "gives to the industries (themselves) the power to do what the Labor Department wished to do through a Federal commission." The UNIONTOWN HERALD, taking up the legality of the matter, declares: "If the Supreme Court should rule that the present economic distress is an emergency equivalent to war, most Federal laws to restore prosperity might be ruled Constitutional." As to the Roosevelt demand for the right to prevent unfair business practices, the RUTLAND DAILY COURIER, the BALTIMORE SUN and the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE, the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR holds that "this demand was particularly encouraging to moderate and conservative opinion," and the ALTOONA MIRROR, the PORT HURON TIMES HERALD and the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, record that there have been wage increases "in response to his leadership." The PHILADELPHIA RECORD says "the President has shown his willingness to meet public needs." The DANBURY NEWS-TIMES gives assurance that "business men are indeed 'tired of being in the red,' and are prepared to work under enforceable trade agreements." The opportunity for business to help itself and to overcome the disaster of unemployment by minority methods is declared by the OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES, the NEWARK EVENING NEWS and the SCRANTON TIMES. The OAKLAND TRIBUNE comments: "He founded a note to halt some reckless and short-sighted policies which have been followed by some industries in the effort to meet the strain of the times and capitalize on the necessities of a part of the public."

The President's care in dealing with the subject of inflation is lauded by the ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS and the NASHVILLE BANNER. His statement that he had "no expectation of making a hit" every time he came to bat is a subject of much comment. It's "sincere human note" is commended by the PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEADER. Its agreement with "the realities of human life" by the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, and the President's ability to make a sporting record is asserted by the TEXARKANA GAZETTE and the ABILENE REPORTER. The DAYTON DAILY NEWS believes it is "bound to be a historic day in the life of the nation."

A minimum of government participation in business is demanded by the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION and the HARTFORD COURANT. The SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE is skeptical of the results. The SIOUX FALLS DAILY LEADER agrees that "the realities of human life" by the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, and the President's ability to make a sporting record is asserted by the TEXARKANA GAZETTE and the ABILENE REPORTER. The DAYTON DAILY NEWS believes it is "bound to be a historic day in the life of the nation."

ROOSEVELT'S CHALLENGE FOR PEACE

STRIKING with speed and drama, President Roosevelt on Tuesday challenged the nations of the entire world to outlaw offensive weapons of warfare, and to enter into a solemn covenant not to invade each other's territory.

He addressed a moving appeal for peace to the sovereigns of 54 nations by cable, and later, in a special message to congress informing it of his action, declared he was impelled to this dramatic step because "selfish and short-sighted" interests are menacing the political and economic stability of the world.

Coming as it did in the face of real warfare in South America and Asia, and threatened war in Europe, and on the eve of Adolph Hitler's expected gun-rumbling speech to the German Reichstag, the president's action created an international sensation.

The failure of any country to join "with genuine sincerity" in this undertaking, he told his fellow sovereigns, will permit the world to fix the responsibility for conflict where it belongs.

To the congress, he said: "The way to disarm is to disarm. The way to prevent invasion is to make it impossible." This he proposed to do by eliminating completely all offensive weapons of war such as heavy mobile artillery, tanks, airplanes and poison gases, in accordance with the McDonald plan of disarmament.

Congress hailed the president's step with approval. Paens of praise were heaped upon it by the Democrats. The Republicans were skeptical of its results, but lauded the undertaking as a step in the right direction, and the people of the nation at large are hopeful that it will prove a powerful step in the direction of world peace.

TELLING IT TO CONGRESS

Another movement within congress to eliminate the mileage graft practiced by that body has been launched, this time by Representative Cannon of Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin member proposes that the present traveling expenses of 15 cents a mile allowed congressmen be reduced to five cents. The latter figure, he said, would be half a cent a mile more than the actual amount, as shown by investigation, required in traveling to and from sessions. He pointed out that in the 72nd session the California delegation received $47,000 for traveling expenses, which was more than $41,000 in excess of the actual cost.

Representative Cannon then told the house a truth that ought to have taken some of the self-conceit out of the members.

"It is such practices as this," he said, "coupled with the daily clownish antics for which both houses are noted, that bring the congress of the United States into such universal disrepute and disrespect with the American people."

That this reprimand was merited can not be disputed by anyone who follows congressional practices and proceedings. There is little hope, though, that it will succeed either in eliminating the traveling-expense graft or "clownish antics."

BANKING REFORM

The American people favor legislation that will prevent bank failures, but they can't agree as to just how it should be done. While they are disputing, and arguing, business lags. But now a commission of the American Banking association has come forward with a 15 point plan, to put the banks of the country on a better basis.

There is a tendency in the banking business, as in all forms of activity, for people to go to extremes. At times when there is a need and reason for liberal extension of credit, people may have become so cautious that they won't extend the credit that is really needed and justified by business conditions.

And then there are times when people have been stepping high, when they should be more conservative and cut down their speed. But at that time people may be so confident that loans can be had without adequate security. The report comes from many other sections that in the boom days it was very easy for people to borrow large amounts without careful scrutiny of the proposition they were offering.

The American people have been inflated with get-rich-quick spirits. Their minds have been on big interest rates, big profits. They were willing to risk the principal of their money, for one or two per cent extra interest. That kind of thing is a losing game. The recommendations of the Banker's commission should help get American banking on a rock bottom basis, on which a new foundation of prosperity for all can be constructed.

Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, predicts that putting 250,000 men in national and State forests will add millions of dollars to the value of American forested areas. He holds that forest protection work alone will reduce annual fire losses by $18,000,000, and says that thousands of acres will be added to the timbered natural resources of the country.

He cites three types of labor which will keep the civilian corps employed; forest protection, which includes the construction of fire guard cabins and emergency fire-control landing fields forest improvement, to include tree planting, thinning out of undesirable trees and the destruction of insects and disease-breeding material and forest flood control and soil erosion work to protect or improve existing forested areas. The net result of all this will be to permit the Forest Service to complete its ten-year forest improvement schedule in two years. His contention is that the boys in the conservation construction camps will be fighting for the welfare of their country just as they would be if they were part of the armed forces of the Nation.

But will it interest the average citizen most is that the country is getting a substantial return for what it is doing for the men in the conservation camps. It comes under the head of legitimate employment; it decreases the number of the unemployed and it is a distinct contribution to the future welfare of the country.

The United States usually gets the worst of it when its representatives go into conferences with European statesmen. Those boys over there make statehood a life business and the boys we send over there are just putty in their experienced hands. We always shiver when anybody in this country holds a conference with foreign envoys—and this includes our president. He hasn't said much about what happened when the debt evaders called on him.

IS IT THE SON'S FAULT? A reader writes: "I should like to see an editorial by you on the proper attitude of a successful business man to his son."

"I have read of those who boast of the success of men whom they started as office-boys: one man said that he always interviewed each applicant and personally made the selection. I have always noted that when some of these men pass out of the business, the former office-boy takes their job."

"These same executives have sons who also enter the business. They are privileged characters, and the father who will take an office-boy to task for tardiness does not seem to mind what his own son does. So, with few exceptions, our big executives have sons that could not hold their jobs were it not for their father's influence."

"Why is this? Is it the son's fault? Why do these fathers not give their sons the same training they give their office-boys? If it seems to me as a father that nothing could be more worthwhile than to have a son whom I could honestly look at with pride, and know that he is a better man than his dad and that I had helped a little in the training."

Before we judge the father too harshly, let us see what a difficult proposition he is up against. Social pressure forces him to send the boy to college for four years whether or not the boy is the type to be benefited by college. This has resulted in the common saying, "Too many boys are sent to college and not enough go."

The average teachers do not train the pupil to think. They worship memory, and you would almost think the boy had a keg for a head—they pour in facts and information and then if they can open the spigot and the same facts and information come out, they are thoroughly satisfied with the job. It matters not whether the boy understands it all and has done any thinking or not.

It was a woman who said "Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting, get understanding." If the teachers would forget the painful memorizing operation and see to it that the student understood the proposition, it would make the acquisition of a so-called education a much more enjoyable affair for both student and teacher. If we understand a thing and are interested in it, we do not need to worry about memory.

While the son of the well-to-do man is having everything made easy for him and is swimming around in the globe with the other goldfish, the office-boy is out in the deep waters of life and has to swim or sink on his own initiative.

The office-boy has the advantage of watching real executives in actual operation; whereas, the well-to-do boy is in a Business Administration School listening to theories on how to function as an executive.

It is not so much a question as to whether or not the boy has a college education, the real point at issue is: has he been trained to think? These are the four best years of his life, and if he has not been trained to think, he has been cheated out of the best equipment for success.

Social pressure almost forces the father to give his boy everything that other boys have, whether it is good for him or not.

A prize fighter is developed by fighting, and we cannot shield and protect a boy from every experience that would develop him and then complain when the boy does not emerge a trained fighter.

The successful father who wishes to do the best he can for his son should make sure that his son really belongs in his business before he offers him a desk in the office or a job in the shop. Some young men prefer to work out their own destiny away from the indulgent coddling of the father. What they can achieve by their own effort is theirs and no one can deny them credit.

Furthermore, a man who can wisely train an employee to whom he is not related may be a sad failure in handling his own son. Such weakness should be recognized, and if the son is brought into the business, he should be put under an official who can properly instruct and stimulate him.

Probably every successful father cherishes the hope that his son will follow in his own footsteps and carry on to a greater goal, but this ambition should be tempered. If the son isn't made of the same stuff as the father, it is worse than useless to try to fit the "round peg in the square hole," but the son may still win a happy life if he is allowed to develop in his own way.

It is a mistake to imagine that all office-boys rise to presidencies. When college-trained boys rise to the top they do not attract so much attention. The human element is one factor that can never be standardized.

Partnership With Industry Roosevelt Plan Is Discussed

President's Address, Outlining Proposed Federal Supervision Of Methods Of Production, Called Forceful Presentation Of Subject

President Roosevelt's proposal that the government act in partnership with various forms of production, as given in a radio address, is made the subject of a wide variety of comment. Many editors believe that, under the plan, employment would be provided for an increased number of persons. "It will make the United States a country of greater security for capital and of a larger reward and happier living conditions for labor," thinks the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, while the ATLANTA JOURNAL, viewing this project with other policies of the Administration, offers the verdict: "Although new in method, they are as old in principle as the genius of American democracy. They are practical applications of a philosophy of government made to serve the people." The HAVERHILL GAZETTE suggests that the plan "gives private enterprise all the opportunity it needs to put its house in order so that it can function for the good of all," while the ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC feels that it is "basically much more American in principle than the original 30-hour week bill, which sought to make the government a virtual dictator over the nation's industries."

"The President," says the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "said that well considered and conservative measures will be proposed to give the industrial workers of the country a fairer wage return, and to put an end to cut-throat and unfair competition. If he can accomplish these ends, the economic situation is likely to cure itself very largely." Declaring that the plan "has impressed the country," the BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD says that "the bewilderment in our industrial life today is ample proof of the need of a new order and scheme of symmetrical development, must supplant the system that brought us to this plight." It is called "revolutionary" by the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD which adds: "Whether we like it or not, it seems necessary, unavoidable. At least, some console themselves by saying, until the emergency is passing, that it is extremely doubtful if the will ever be a return to the old, unrestrained order."

Pointing out that the partnership will not extend to profits or sales, the CLEVELAND NEWS adds that "there will be no curtailing of individual initiative," but that the various groups in industry to controlling themselves. The FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM observes that the aim of the Roosevelt policy is "to make an empire out of the government," with the understanding that "so long as the industries play the game and keep within the rules, the empire will not be called upon to penalize either 'layers or teams.' Needed changes in the anti-trust laws to permit such co-operation are suggested by the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION, the SALT LAKE DESPATCH, NEWS, the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS and the OREGON DAILY NORTH-WESTERN.

"Control, or 'partnership,'" according to the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS, "is proposed only until industry shall get its bearings, so that it can go its way alone, and that it must create it for themselves."

The PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN contends: "There is a happy medium between encouragement of monopolistic enterprise and the legal fostering of atrocious competitive waste, and that medium is to be sought and should be found by reasonable government participation in the effort of business to help itself." The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL appraises the Administration as "pro-business and not anti-business," and the LINGO STATE JOURNAL attests the approval of the idea by the United States Chamber of Commerce, while the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) RE-PUBLICAN sees a similarity to the War Industries Board. The INDIANAPOLIS NEWS states that the plan "gives to the industries themselves the power to do what the Labor Department wishes to do through a Federal commission."

The UNIONTOWN HERALD, taking up the legality of the matter, declares: "If the Supreme Court should rule that the present economic distress is an emergency equivalent to war, most Federal laws to restore prosperity might be ruled 'Constitutional.' As to the Roosevelt demand for the right to prevent unfair business practices, the RUTLAND DAILY HERALD states, 'In some form, and with such modifications as the President may see fit to make, that is what we are going to get.'"

The impression that was made on the country by President Roosevelt's statement as to this plan, is a subject of favorable comment by the DES MOINES TRIBUNE, the HARTFORD TIMES, the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL, the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, the MORGANTOWN DOMINION-NEWS, the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE, the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, the COLUMBIA JOURNAL, the BALTIMORE SUN, and the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE. The CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR holds that this statement was particularly encouraging to moderate and conservative opinion," and the ALTOONA MIR-ROR, the PORT HURON TRIBUNE OBSERVER, record that there have been wage increases "in response to his leadership." The PHILADELPHIA RECORD says "the President has shown his willingness to meet public needs." The DANBURY NEWS-TIMES gives assurance that "business men are indeed 'tired of being in the red,' and are prepared to work under enforceable trade agreements." The opportunity for business to help itself and to overcome the disadvantages of unapproved minority methods is declared by the OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES, the NEWARK EVENING NEWS and the SCRANTON TIMES.

The OAKLAND TRIBUNE comments: "He sounded a note to halt some reckless and short-sighted policies which have been followed by some industries in the effort to meet the strain of the times and capitalize on the necessities of a part of the public."

The President's care in dealing with the subject of inflation is lauded by the ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS and the NASHVILLE BANNER. His statement that he had "no expectation of making a hit" every time he came to bat is a subject of much comment. It's "a sincere human note," is commended by the PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEDGER, its agreement with "the realities of human life" by the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, and the President's ability to make a sporting record is asserted by the TEXARKANA GAZETTE and the ABILENE REPORTER. The DAYTON DAILY NEWS believes it is "bound to be a historic statement."

A minimum of government participation in business is demanded by the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION and the HARTFORD COURANT. The SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE is skeptical of the plan, while the BOISE IDAHO STATESMAN, feeling that the President, "so far as strategy is concerned, has put it all over Congress," advises that "the battle is not yet over." The AKRON BEACON JOURNAL opposes references to foreign affairs, and adds that "on the rock of that error the Hoover administration was wrecked."

The conductor of a very slow English train hurried along the platform and opened the door of a compartment occupied by an elderly gentleman. "Pardon me, sir," he said, "but I've got some very bad news for you."

"What has happened?"

"The conductor looked agitated. 'Well, sir,' he said, 'we've just had news through to the effect that the Devilville, the stop where you were getting off, has been burned to the ground.'"

"That's all right," returned the passenger. "they will have rebuilt it by the time this train gets here."

Thomas Praises Roosevelt For World Speech

Norman Thomas, Socialist Candidate And Opponent, Praises President Roosevelt

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 17.—A hearty stamp of approval to President Roosevelt's action in addressing a dramatic peace plea to the rulers of the world was expressed today by one of the chief executive's opponents at the November election, Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate.

Of the peace statement, Thomas told a large audience:

"I think it was well thought out and I think the president did exceedingly well in addressing all powers, including Russia."

Thomas branded Hitlerism in Germany as "proof" America lost the war. "Hitlerism," he said, "is a product of our intervention."

Touching domestic problems, Thomas paid tribute to President Roosevelt's vigorous action but decried the fact the "new deal" was being used "to maintain capitalism."

Uproars Of Laughter Greet Presentation Of Parents And Teachers Tuesday Evening

The members of the Union Township Parent-Teacher Association closed the season Tuesday evening with a most amusing program, which was presented by the parents and teachers in the form of "The Old Fashioned Skewl" and a typical old time school master was W. C. McGrew, as he tried to discipline the pupils, whose antics created a storm of hilarity among the audience; one would never have suspected the dignified members of the faculty and the sedate parents were taking the parts of the pupils, as they chewed large hunks of chewing gum and shot paper wads about the room.

Mrs. E. W. Sontum and Mrs. Nick Raymond nearly brought down the house with their humorous song "In the Attic".

The last business session of the school year was held and the officers named for the coming year were: Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, president; W. C. McGrew, vice president; Donald E. Wolves Club Members Hear Two Addresses

Miss Kersey And Supt. West Discuss Live Themes At Tuesday Meeting

Meeting of The Wolves club held last night at The Castleton, following a dinner, was one of the most instructive meetings held in some time by the organization.

The guest speakers of the evening were Miss Helen Kersey, representative of the National Red Cross and State Emergency Relief Board and G. S. West, superintendent of the Erie and Ashtabula Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Dr. Warren V. Massaro, the president, announced the program and the speakers were respectively introduced by Miss Della Glenn, secretary of the Associated Charities, and Angelo Casaccia.

Miss Kersey gave a clear insight to her listeners to the problems of unemployment emergency relief and told how it was necessary to use the utmost tact and sympathy in most instances, as there was but little difference today between the applicant for relief and the person seated on the other side of the desk taking the data in the case.

She expressed the belief that we are on the threshold of a new era and like the pioneers of the olden days, are in the mountains looking out over the plain and visioning the new day that is far ahead. Men of great vision to look forward into the new era are needed to act as leaders, while there must be others able to see with them and lead the people forward.

Supintendent G. S. West spoke on "Railroad and Transportation Problems." Expressing the opinion that better than ninety percent of the people of this city were in some way or other affected by railroad transportation facilities, he said that what the railroads needed most now was relief from unfair competition by motor trucks and water. He showed that these were unfair competition, as the taxpayers' money actually pays the difference between actual cost of transportation by motor truck and water and the cost of transportation by rail. In other words, the waterways and motor trucks are actually subsidized with tax money, used in maintaining the roads for trucks and the waterways for water transportation. He said a satisfactory adjustment of the problem of the railroads would mean much to this city.

In addition to the guest speakers and Miss Della Glenn, H. G. Boosinger of Franklin, was a guest of the occasion.

Norman Thomas, Socialist Candidate And Opponent, Praises President Roosevelt

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 17.—A hearty stamp of approval of President Roosevelt's action in addressing a dramatic peace plea to the rulers of the world was expressed today by one of the chief executive's opponents at the November election, Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate.

Of the peace statement, Thomas told a large audience: "I think it was well thought out and well said, this appeal to the world. I think the president did exceedingly well in addressing all powers, including Russia."

Thomas branded Hitlerism in Germany as "proof" America lost the war. "Hitlerism," he said, "is a product of our intervention."

Touching domestic problems, Thomas paid tribute to President Roosevelt's vigorous action but decried the fact the "new deal" was being used "to maintain capitalism."

Foresters Are Set To Depart Friday

Travel Plans Are Unknown; Camp Point Uncertain For First 100

FOREST LIFE AHEAD UNTIL NOVEMBER

From train or bus windows the men of New Castle's first "forest army" division will wave fond farewells to their home city on Friday after the completion of the preliminary medical examination which army doctors will conduct for them earlier that same day at City Hall. The 100 eager recruits will say "so long" for six months.

Must "Toughen Up" First
To some U. S. Army concentration camp in Maryland or Virginia the boys will be rushed, there to "loosen up" their muscles for two weeks before exiling themselves in the forests. Life there will not end for them until November.

It was thought possible today that the U. S. Army would arrange for the transportation of the men without supplying particulars for recruit leaders here, although no definite news to that effect had come. The local leaders, in fact, have not learned just how the boys will go, or where.

Notices reached the 100 young men by mail today, telling them to report at City Hall at 8 o'clock Friday morning for their health exam.

The camp trip instructions came to G. S. Bennett, heading the recruiting work, less than 24 hours after he telephoned the State Emergency Relief board at Harrisburg to announce that the 100 were all ready.

Parents and townspeople will likely congregate Friday to wish the foresters well as they leave for an experience which history shows American youths never received before. The army will supervise them but the discipline under which they live will not be of the rigid form which blankets a war-time soldier. The boys will find recreation daily.

Others Will Follow
The Friday departure will bring to an end a series of moves taken to organize the first of the county's quota. Later a group of 84 others, now registered and interviewed will follow the first corps. After they go preparations for sending more will be commenced over again.

To date the county has been allotted a total of 494. It means 394 remain to go.

Postal Men Still Seek Identity Of Mail Box Tamperer

No identity of the one who tossed a lighted firecracker into an East Side mail box last Thursday, causing slight damage to deposited letters, had been established by New Castle post office officials today. However, the investigation was being continued.

The firecracker thundered off inside the box and tore apart at least one letter.

Securities Are Put Up At Bank In Place Of Bond

Court Grants Petition Of Jessie B. Mayne, Widow Of Late David A. Mayne

In the estate of the late David A. Mayne, Jessie B. Mayne, surviving spouse, on Tuesday, presented a petition in county court asking that she be permitted to put up certain securities in lieu of a bond of $25,000.

Under the terms of the will it is set forth that Mrs. Mayne was to receive one-half of the property absolutely and use of the remaining half during her lifetime. At her death it is to go to deceased's brothers and sisters or their descendants.

A citation had been awarded requiring her to give bond in the sum of $25,000. The petition states that she has been unable to secure this bond. In lieu of it she asked to be permitted to put up $15,000 in government securities, $5,000 in Ward Baking Company bonds, with the Union Trust Company, and have the bond signed by W. D. Walton in addition.

The petition was granted by Judge Chambers.

Two Hundred Four Persons Examined

Two hundred and four persons engaged in the handling of food, under a physician's examination and filed certificates of good health with the city health officer. Examinations are conducted semi-annually.

Davis Makes 237 Sanitary Inspections

Thirty seven homes were placed in quarantine during April according to a health bureau report compiled by Dr. W. L. Steen. Sanitary Policeman Davis made 237 sanitary inspections, and investigated 18 alleged nuisances.

In addition, he performed the duties of a food inspector and inspected 42 meat and fish markets, 53 hotels and restaurants, 25 confectionery stores and soda fountains and eighth milk depots and pasteurizing plants.

Tax Collection Costs High In This State

(Special to The News.)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 17.—It costs four times as much to collect taxes in Pennsylvania as in Ohio, principally due to the fee system of tax collection and the thousands of taxing bodies existing in this state, according to facts obtained by the western Pennsylvania branch of The National Economy League.

The league finds that in 1928 the last year for which accurate comparable figures are obtainable, Ohio paid an average of 0.36 per cent to collect taxes while in the same year it cost 1.42 per cent in Pennsylvania. Tax collection costs from one-half of one per cent to five per cent in this state and there are 3,345 bodies, each with tax assessing powers, the league finds.

The league is seeking the elimination of the entire fee system in this state. Some success was attained in the recent session of the legislature when the fee of the Allegheny county delinquent tax collector was cut from 10 to 5 per cent and treasurers of third class cities were transferred from a fee to a salary basis.

LETTER POINTS OUT LAW PROPOSALS FOR POSTMEN'S BRANCH

Outlining all the things President Roosevelt would be empowered to do should certain proposed legislation now before congress be passed, a letter reached the New Castle branch of the National Federation of Letter Carriers from that organization's headquarters today. It was posted for local postmen to read.

At least two, and possibly three, uptown letter carriers would be eliminated by the 30-year-service clause which would retire all government employees with that amount of federal service behind them. It is thought a total of eight postal employees here would be affected by that provision.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Ploughing through the seas en route from Porto Rico to New York the 2,915-ton Liner Carabobo crashed head-on with a whale, passengers said Tuesday.

The ship, upon impact with the whale, began a motion resembling a violent shimmy. Officers rushed to the side. They saw a full-grown whale struggling a few feet below the surface, its shoulder split in a gaping wound.

Captain Stephen Morris slackened power, hoping the whale would fall away. But the whale started pushing the ship and the captain ordered "full speed astern."

After the ship had backed nearly half a trot, the whale disengaged itself and disappeared.

Foresters Are Set To Depart Friday

Travel Plans Are Unknown; Camp Point Uncertain
For First 100

FOREST LIFE AHEAD UNTIL NOVEMBER

From train or bus windows the men of New Castle's first "forest army" division will wave fond farewells to their home city on Friday after the completion of the preliminary medical examination which army doctors will conduct for them earlier that same day at City Hall. The 100 eager recruits will say "so long" for six months.

Must "Toughen Up" First

To some U. S. Army concentration camp in Maryland or Virginia the boys will be rushed, there to "loosen up" their muscles for two weeks before exiling themselves in the forests. Life there will not end for them until November.

It was thought possible today that the U. S. Army would arrange for the transportation of the men without supplying particulars for recruit leaders here, although no definite news to that effect had come. The local leaders, in fact, have not learned just how the boys will go, or where.

Notices reached the 100 young men by mail today, telling them to report at City Hall at 8 o'clock Friday morning for their health exam.

The camp trip instructions came to G. S. Bennett, heading the recruiting work, less than 24 hours after he telephoned the State Emergency Relief board at Harrisburg to announce that the 100 were all ready.

Parents and townspeople will likely congregate Friday to wish the foresters well as they leave for an experience which history shows American youths never received before. The army will supervise them but the discipline under which they live will not be of the rigid form which blankets a war-time soldier. The boys will find recreation daily.

Others Will Follow

The Friday departure will bring to an end a series of moves taken to organize the first of the county's quota. Later a group of 84 others, now registered and interviewed will follow the first corps. After they go preparations for sending more will be commenced over again.

To date the county has been allotted a total of 494. It means 394 remain to go.

Postal Men Still Seek Identity Of Mail Box Tamperer

No identity of the one who tossed a lighted firecracker into an East Side mail box last Thursday, causing slight damage to deposited letters, had been established by New Castle post office officials today. However, the investigation was being continued.

The firecracker thundered off inside the box and tore apart at least one letter.

Securities Are Put Up At Bank In Place Of Bond

Court Grants Petition Of Jessie B. Mayne, Widow Of Late David A. Mayne

In the estate of the late David A. Mayne, Jessie B. Mayne, surviving spouse, on Tuesday, presented a petition in county court asking that she be permitted to put up certain securities in lieu of a bond of $25,000.

Under the terms of the will it is set forth that Mrs. Mayne was to receive one-half of the property absolutely, and use of the remaining half during her lifetime. At her death it is to go to deceased's brothers and sisters or their descendants.

A citation had been awarded requiring her to give bond in the sum of $25,000. The petition states that she has been unable to secure this bond. In lieu of it she asked to be permitted to put up $15,000 in government securities, $5,000 in Ward Baking Company bonds, with the Union Trust Company, and have the bond signed by W. D. Walton in addition.

The petition was granted by Judge Chambers.

LUX for stockings { saves the E-L-A-S-T-I-C-I-T-Y that makes them fit and wear

EVERY girl likes to have lovely, trim-looking legs. It's easy—if you're careful to keep stockings always smooth-fitting by preserving their elasticity.

Lux is specially made to preserve the elasticity silk has when new—that wonderful live quality that makes stockings fit like a second skin. Rubbing with cake soap... washing with ordinary soaps containing harmful alkali... weaken elasticity. Then stockings tend to sag and wrinkle. The lifeless threads break easily, too. The slightest strain may start runs.

Lux stockings every night and you'll be amazed how well they fit—and wear!

Tax Collection Costs High In This State

(Special To The News.)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 17.—It costs four times as much to collect taxes in Pennsylvania as in Ohio, principally due to the fee system of tax collection and the thousands of taxing bodies existing in this state, according to facts obtained by the western Pennsylvania branch of The National Economy League.

The league is seeking the elimination of the entire fee system in this state. Some success was attained in the recent session of the legislature when the fee of the Allegheny county delinquent tax collector was cut from 10 to 5 per cent and treasurers of third class cities were transferred from a fee to a salary basis.

LETTER POINTS OUT LAW PROPOSALS FOR POSTMEN'S BRANCH

Outlining all the things President Roosevelt would be empowered to do should certain proposed legislation now before congress be passed, a letter reached the New Castle branch of the National Federation of Letter Carriers from that organization's headquarters today. It was posted for local postmen to read.

At least two, and possibly three, uptown letter carriers would be eliminated by the 30-year-service clause which would retire all government employees with that amount of federal service behind them. It is thought a total of eight postal employees here would be affected by that provision.

Pinchot Signs Banking Codes At Harrisburg

Governor Affixes Signature To Two Banking Codes; First Since 1915

MORE POWER FOR STATE OFFICIALS

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 17.—Two banking codes enlarging the powers of the state banking department and providing greater safeguards for depositors were signed by Gov. Gifford Pinchot Tuesday.

The governor regretted that the banking department and state banking codes were not as strong as they might be, but stated "there is a tremendous advantage in the codification of the banking laws." It marked the first time since 1915 that Pennsylvania's banking laws have been codified.

The principal functions of the codes are the strengthening of the banking department powers and the creation of machinery for the liquidation of institutions. They also legalize functions heretofore performed by the department without statutory support.

No Jurisdiction Under the legislation the banking department, however, has no jurisdiction over private banks which have been in business continuously since 1904. The department also cannot regulate branch banks until Congress regulates the affiliates of National banks. Loans to individuals were limited to 25 per cent of the capital and assets. Heretofore, it was customary to limit the loans to 10 per cent although no amount was specified by statute.

The codes make it mandatory for directors to audit the affairs of banking institutions annually and submit reports to the banking department. Preferential rates of interest to officers, directors, or employees are prohibited. One-third of an institution's reserve against both time and demand deposits must consist of cash or gold in its vaults.

Pools Forbidden Unless secured by collateral, loans to officers or directors must have the prior approval of all directors or a majority of the executive committee subsequently ratified by a majority of the directors. Mortgage pools are forbidden except for trust estates.

Banks are prohibited from guaranteeing mortgages. They cannot act as surety except for themselves, cannot lend trust funds to officers, directors, or employees, and cannot transfer assets from their commercial departments to their trust departments except under proper restrictions. Future trust companies will be unable to insure titles to real estate.

The statute of limitations for criminal offenses was increased from four to six by the codes.

"These codes should be strengthened at the earliest opportunity by amending them to include the features proposed by the department of justice and banking department and eliminated by the legislature," the governor said. He referred to private and branch bank provisions deleted in the legislative committees.

Roosevelt's Plea First Direct Word To Soviet From U. S.

Advisors Say, However, That Action Does Not Constitute Recognition

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 17.—President Roosevelt's action in sending his world peace appeal direct to Soviet Russia marks the first official communication between Washington and Moscow since the establishment of the Soviet government on Nov. 17, 1917.

Technically speaking it is the first recognition by an American government that there is any government in Russia, notwithstanding that it is the oldest administration in Europe.

Previous administrations have preserved the fiction that a state of revolution exists in Russia, and that there is no government there.

Administration officials were careful to explain that Mr. Roosevelt's action does not constitute nor imply diplomatic recognition. The president's message was addressed to Michael Kalinin, president of the All Union Central Executive Committee, simply because Russia is a party to both the Geneva disarmament conference and the London economic conference.

Asks Removal Of Executrix Under Ira Shaffer Will

Hiram Shaffer, Legatee, Claims A True Accounting Has Not Been Made

Hiram Shaffer of the Seventh Ward, residuary legatee under the will of the Ira B. Shaffer, who died in June 1932, presented a petition in court Tuesday asking for the discharge of Ella M. Moore as executrix, on the grounds that a true inventory of personal property had not been filed at the register and recorder's office and that she had appropriated funds of the decedent to her personal use.

It is admitted that an inventory was filed, but it is claimed that it did not include all of the personal property, and that an accounting has not been made of certain money which petitioner alleges amounted to $5,000.

It is further set forth that Ella M. Moore had control of money belonging to the decedent before his death, which has not been accounted for in March, 1932, it is claimed that Shaffer was taken to the Rochester, Pa. general hospital, and that at that time he gave Ella M. Moore $1200 to pay bills. It is claimed that she has refused to account for this money.

In addition to his personal property Shaffer left two pieces of real estate, one on Cedar street and the other on Liberty street, New Castle. It is claimed that the executrix has asked that the Cedar street property be sold on May 20 to pay debts of the decedent.

Petitioner says that the residuary legatee he is entitled to his share in this real estate. Under the will it was left to him and a niece of decedent, Florence A. Woolley, of North Beaver township. They are to get share and share alike.

Judge James A. Chambers granted a rule on Ella M. Moore in which she is required to show cause why she should not be removed. The hearing has been set for May 29. In the meantime an order has been made staying the sale of the Cedar street property.

Jail Sentences Bring In Taxes

BROOKVILLE, Pa., May 17.—Imprisonment of seven Knox township (Jefferson county) residents for non-payment of 1931 and 1932 taxes Monday, resulted today in an influx of taxes for those years, which Tax Collector W. O. Thompson had been unable to collect. He said late Tuesday that 30 more persons who had been unable or who had refused to pay taxes would be committed to jail within 48 hours unless they paid or friends pay for them or they are exonerated by the township supervisors and by the township school board.

PAINS ACROSS KIDNEYS

IF you are miserable with backache, or getting up at night, bladder or kidney irregularities, you should heed the warning—it may be due to an overabundance of uric acid in the system. Drink copiously of pure water and go to your nearest drug store and obtain Dr. Fitch's A-Kidney-Relief. Read what Mrs. Henry O. Schwab of 16 Hope St., Middletown (Kerrtown), Pa., says: "I suffered with kidney trouble, had excruciating pains in my kidneys and noticed pains in my temples. At times I felt nauseated. After giving Dr. Fitch's A-Kidney-Relief a trial, the pain in my back disappeared, as well as all my other sufferings."

Send 10c to Dr. Fitch's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package of A-Kidney-Relief.

Pinchot Signs Banking Codes At Harrisburg

Governor Affixes Signature
To Two Banking Codes;
First Since 1915

MORE POWER FOR STATE OFFICIALS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 17.—Two banking codes enlarging the powers of the state banking department and providing greater safeguards to depositors were signed by Gov. Gifford Pinchot Tuesday.

The governor regretted that the banking department and state banking codes were not as strong as they might be, but stated "there is a tremendous advantage in the codification of the banking laws." It marked the first time since 1915 that Pennsylvania's banking laws have been codified.

The principal functions of the codes are the strengthening of the banking department powers and the creation of machinery for the liquidation of institutions. They also legalize functions heretofore performed by the department without statutory support.

No Jurisdiction
Under the legislation the banking department, however, has no jurisdiction over private banks which have been in business continuously since 1904. The department also cannot regulate branch banks until Congress regulates the affiliates of national banks. Loans to individuals were limited to 25 per cent of the capital and assets. Heretofore, it was customary to limit the loans to 10 per cent although no amount was specified by statute.

The codes make it mandatory for directors to audit the affairs of banking institutions annually and submit reports to the banking department. Preferential rates of interest to officers, directors, or employees are prohibited. One-third of an institution's reserve against both time and demand deposits must consist of cash or gold in its vaults.

Pools Forbidden
Unless secured by collateral, loans to officers or directors must have the prior approval of all directors or a majority of the executive committee subsequently ratified by a majority of the directors. Mortgage pools are forbidden except for trust estates.

Banks are prohibited from guaranteeing mortgages. They cannot act as surety except for themselves, cannot lend trust funds to officers, directors, or employees, and cannot transfer assets from their commercial departments to their trust departments except under proper restrictions. Future trust companies will be unable to insure titles to real estate.

The statute of limitations for criminal offenses was increased from four to six by the codes.

"These codes should be strengthened at the earliest opportunity by amending them to include the features proposed by the department of justice and banking department and eliminated by the legislature," the governor said. He referred to private and branch bank provisions deleted in the legislative committees.

Roosevelt's Plea First Direct Word To Soviet From U. S.

Advisors Say, However, That Action Does Not Constitute Recognition

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 17.—President Roosevelt's action in sending his world peace appeal direct to Soviet Russia marks the first official communication between Washington and Moscow since the establishment of the Soviet government on Nov. 17, 1917.

Technically speaking it is the first recognition by an American government that there is any government in Russia, notwithstanding that it is the oldest administration in Europe.

Previous administrations have preserved the fiction that a state of revolution exists in Russia and that there is no government there. Administration officials were careful to explain that Mr. Roosevelt's action does not constitute nor imply diplomatic recognition. The president's message was addressed to Michail Kalinin, president of the All Union Central Executive Committee, simply because Russia is a party to both the Geneva disarmament conference and the London economic conference.

Asks Removal Of Executrix Under Ira Shaffer Will

Hiram Shaffer, Legatee, Claims A True Accounting Has Not Been Made

Hiram Shaffer of the Seventh Ward, residuary legatee under the will of the Ira B. Shaffer, who died in June 1932, presented a petition in court Tuesday asking for the discharge of Ella M. Moore as executrix, on the grounds that a true inventory of personal property had not been filed at the register and recorder's office and that she had appropriated funds of the decedent to her personal use.

It is admitted that an inventory was filed, but it is claimed that it did not include all of the personal property, and that an accounting has not been made of certain money which petitioner alleges amounted to $5,000.

It is further set forth that Ella M. Moore had control of money belonging to the decedent before his death which has not been accounted for. In March, 1932, it is claimed that Shaffer was taken to the Rochester, Pa. general hospital, and that at that time he gave Ella M. Moore, $1200 to pay bills. It is claimed that she has refused to account for this money.

In addition to his personal property Shaffer left two pieces of real estate, one on Cedar street and the other on Liberty street, New Castle. It is claimed that the executrix has asked that the Cedar street property be sold on May 20 to pay debts of the decedent.

Petitioner says that a residuary legatee he is entitled to his share in this real estate. Under the will it was left to him and a niece of decedent, Florence A. Wooley, of North Beaver township. They are to get share and share alike.

Judge James A. Chambers granted a rule on Ella M. Moore in which she is required to show cause why she should not be removed. The hearing has been set for May 29. In the meantime an order has been made staying the sale of the Cedar street property.

Jail Sentences Bring In Taxes

BROOKVILLE, Pa., May 17.—Imprisonment of seven Knox township (Jefferson county) residents for non-payment of 1931 and 1932 taxes Monday, resulted today in an influx of taxes for those years, which Tax Collector W. O. Thompson had been unable to collect. He said late Tuesday that 30 more persons who had been unable or who had refused to pay taxes would be committed to jail within 48 hours unless they paid or friends pay for them or they are exonerated by the township supervisors and by the township school board.

PAINS ACROSS KIDNEYS

If you are miserable with back-ache, or getting up at night, bladder or kidney irregularities, you should heed the warning—it may be due to an over-abundance of uric acid in the system. Drink copiously of pure water and go to your nearest drug store and obtain Dr. Pierce's A-muric. Read what Mrs. Henry O. Schwab of 16 Hope St., Meadville, (Kerstown) Pa., says: "I suffered with kidney trouble, had a dull ache across my kidneys and noticed pains in my temples. At times I felt nauseated. After giving Dr. Pierce's A-muric Tablets a trial, the pain in my back disappeared, as well as my other sufferings."

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package of A-muric.

Dr. John Hibben Dies Of Injuries In Machine Crash

President Emeritus Of Princeton Dies After Auto Crashes Into Beer Truck

(International News Service) PRINCETON, N. J., May 17.—Leaders of the academic world today joined in paying unstinted tribute to Dr. John Grier Hibben, president emeritus of Princeton University who died yesterday shortly after his automobile collided with a beer truck near Woodbridge, N. J.

Mrs. Hibben, who was riding in the car with her distinguished husband, was in critical condition at the Rahway General Hospital with several physicians in attendance. She was still unconscious at an early hour today, more than 12 hours after the crash. Her most serious injury was a fracture at the base of the skull, physicians said.

Athletic contests scheduled at the university today were cancelled as scholastic, civic and social circles of Princeton joined in mourning the tragic passing of Dr. Hibben.

A. Adams; Robert Harvey, the son—Charles H. Rabberman; Nancy Harvey, the daughter—Miss Edith Murphy; Herbert Bevens, a wandering son—Harold Burns. Italian Airmen Start Training For Epic Flight

Group Of 100 Italian Airmen
Start Three Weeks Of Rigid Training
Will Not Be Allowed Visitors; Must Concentrate
On Atlantic Flight

By GUGLIELMO EMANUEL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
(Copyright, 1933, by International
News Service.)

ORBETELLO, Italy, May 17.—One hundred Italian airmen, who will participate early next month in the epoch-making seaplane flight from Italy to the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, went into almost monastic seclusion Tuesday.

For three weeks they will be closely confined to barracks at the great airport here, denied permission to receive women visitors, even their fiancées.

Concentrate Minds.
Gen. Italo Balbo, air minister, who will command the flight, desires that all their thoughts shall be concentrated on the impending hop across the Atlantic. Hence their preparation will be spiritual as well as technical.

From now on every minute of the day will be devoted to scheduled lessons and trial flights over Lake Orbetello or conferences on the problems to be encountered on a route that will carry this great air armada as far north as Labrador before it comes to rest on Lake Michigan.

The training will be done on seaplanes practically of identical design with those to be used on the actual flight but these planes will not be turned over to the pilots until nearly the moment of the hop-off so as to be in the best possible condition after tests by official experts under the full responsibility of the manufacturers.

Watched By Trawlers.
Along the sea route across the north Atlantic several British trawlers have been chartered by the Italian government to be spread out at intervals to render aid to any seaplane that is in distress. Each trawler will carry three Italian air force operators to act as navigators, meteorologists and radio operators.

Several submarines will also cooperate, watching the route and minimizing the risk of accident.

The trawlers and submarines, which are to be posted nearest the American side have already sailed to take up their posts.

If all goes well the 24 seaplanes making the flight will hop directly from Iceland to Labrador without a stop at Greenland. Italian mariners are already in Iceland picking up the planes where they are to be brought down.

The continued increase in steel production is likely to produce a cycle. Railroads which haul steel are the heaviest purchasers of steel rails. They are likely to place the largest orders in two years within a few weeks.

COMMISSIONERS HEAR COAL FIELD CHARGES

Academy Brotherhood and the K. M. T. were represented by Attorney Clarence A. Patterson.

Not a Court Trial.
At the opening of the hearing Mr. Lockhart announced to the crowd that this was not a court trial, that it was merely an investigation by the county commissioners to determine the truth or falsity of charges that had been made against Butler. He then asked Commissioner Elder to administer the oaths to the witnesses.

Paul Jacobs was the first witness called by the complainants. He testified that he had been employed as a coal trucker in the county fields in 1932 but that prior to that he had been employed as a night watchman at $3.50 per week. When he was a night watchman he said that Butler had always cashed his check for him and given him the money in cash. There was never any shortage in his money then, he said.

In October, 1932, he started trucking coal and said that Butler forced him to pay $5 per week to hold his job. Asked how Butler broadened the matter Jacobs said that after a pay Butler would say to him "have a look at your truck." Jacobs testified that when he quit paying Butler the $5 per week he was let out as a trucker. Later he went to Butler's house and asked for more work. Butler told him there was nothing doing just then but that he "needed a linoleum for the kitchen." "Were you ever called back to work?" asked Patterson. "No," replied Jacobs.

On cross examination Jacobs said that Butler named Woodrow, who talked to him about making out an affidavit concerning alleged irregularities. Asked by Logan what manner Butler had used when first he had allegedly asked for money Jacobs said "he said that if I kicked in he would make it worth while."

It was at this point that Solicitor Lockhart was forced to call an officer to maintain order as the crowd of spectators in the hallway were laughing and talking in such a loud tone that it was difficult to hear the testimony.

Harkless Testifies.
Thomas Harkless was called and said that he had been employed at the coal fields for eight months and 15 days. He testified that he had hauled coal to Joseph Hahn on East Washington street but that the name given him on the slip was that of C. V. Miller. Harkless said Butler had told him that the coal was for repairs on his (Butler's) car. Harkless also testified that he had borrowed $2 from a gasoline man to loan to Butler to pay interest on a note in the bank. Butler then had asked Harkless to pay the interest and to tell the bank that he (Butler) was sick and would get the bondsmen to sign the note later.

Harkless also testified that he had purchased five pounds of sugar, a cake of yeast and a gallon of wood alcohol for Butler. He testified that he was usually short a little in his pay but admitted that this was probably just a clerical error. One day he said he was long $3 and drew Butler's attention to it, whereupon Butler told him that it was "all right, it's coming to you."

On cross examination Harkless stuck to his story. Asked if Hahn had ever dug coal at the field he said he had never seen him and that the coal delivered to Hahn was county coal. He also testified to having delivered coal to Mrs. Cope which she had told him (he said) was in payment of services rendered in cleaning house. He said he had no regular delivery card for her.

His son, Thomas Arthur Harkless, who does all the elder Harkless book work for him, was called and corroborated the testimony of his father.

Thomas Bera Testifies.
Thomas Bera was called and said he had hauled coal for a week. He called Butler, he said, to ask for additional work and Butler said to him "have you been paid." Bera said he had, whereupon Butler said to him "anything for me?" Bera told him there wasn't and that Butler already owed him $19.70 for a coal bill. Bera said he never got any more work at the field.

Lewis Ritchey was called and said Butler had insisted upon ten per cent of his earnings, but that Butler had never come to him and asked for it. Ritchey hauled three weeks and was laid off. He denied that the layoff was for drinking.

W. N. Trussell was called and said he had started to haul coal in the middle of October, 1932. Butler told him he was to get 10 per cent of the money given Trussell and Trussell said he paid him. One day he gave him $10 and gave him $5 twice after that.

In November, 1932, Trussell said Butler came to him and asked him to come to the court house and testify at an investigation. He said Butler wanted him to testify that he had never paid Butler anything. "I didn't go because I had paid him," said Trussell.

"Did you receive any telephone calls about this hearing?" asked Patterson. Question objected to and sustained. Patterson explained there had been a number of mysterious telephone calls to Trussell asking him not to attend the hearing.

On cross examination Logan asked: "Did you ever have any arguments with the county commissioners?"

"Are you trying Butler or me?" parried Trussell.

He finally admitted some argument but said that was before the county coal field work started.

Bought a Car.
Paul Burrows of the Morgan-Burrows company was called and said that on October 31, 1932, Butler had purchased a used car from them.

"How was it to be paid for?" asked Patterson.

"By a cash payment of $15, a coal payment in the value of $15, $50 allowance on an old car and a note for $70."

"Did you ever get any coal?" "Yes, one load went to my home and it wasn't much good. Another load went to the garage and I guess it was all right—that stove will burn anything," Burrows said he understood that Butler was to get the coal from the Vance Coal company, but that he had no knowledge of where it came from.

This completed the testimony of the complainants whereupon District Attorney John S. Powers, who had been sitting as an observer, arose and asked if there had been any new testimony offered other than was offered at an investigation last fall.

"Yes," said Solicitor Lockhart. "The investigation last fall floundered out. We had little testimony and this was broken down. This is all new."

Butler Presents Defense.
Butler's defense then started, with Earl Jay as the first witness. He testified that he had been working in the coal fields for a year but had never been asked nor had he ever paid Butler any money. He said he had been in Butler's house when Paul Jacobs was there and had not heard the entire conversation, but had heard Butler say "I don't want anything from any of my truckers." He admitted that he had not been paid off as were the other truckers.

Calvin Matthews was called and said he had been in the kitchen of Butler's home and had heard Jacobs say he wanted to make it right with Butler, and that Butler had said he didn't do business that way. He testified that he had made as high as $48 per week working as a helper in the coal fields.

On cross examination he said he had worked with Sam Frey and other truckers. "Isn't it a fact," said Patterson, "that Butler required Frey to hire him?" "I don't know that," said Matthews. Patterson endeavored to bring out the fact that Matthews was a regular caller at the Butler home but both Logan and Butler objected in a strenuous tone.

Lockhart then took up the questioning. "You say you made as high as $48 per week at the coal field?" "Yes, sir."

"How long have you worked at the fields?" "About a year."

Hahn Testifies.
Joseph Hahn was called to rebut the testimony of Thomas Harkless and said that he had received coal from the county field but that it was coal he and his son had dug out there. He denied ever having received a pound of coal for repairing Butler's car and said that every pound he received was coal that had been dug upon a county order.

Mark Butler, testified that he had heard Paul Jacobs offer to fix things with her dad in their home, but that Butler had said he didn't do business that way.

C. V. Miller testified that Harkless had apologized to him for using his name in an affidavit when it was a lie. Harkless later made a corrected affidavit in which the name of Hahn was substituted for Miller.

Earl Jay was recalled and said Lewis Ritchey had threatened to get even with Butler.

William Hogue was called and said that he had heard W. N. Trussell threaten to "make things hot for some of them down around the court house."

Butler Testifies.
Mark Butler then took the stand in his own defense.

"Did you ever take any money from any trucker at any time?" he was asked.

"I never did," was the reply.

"Did you ever make any demands for money from them?" "I never did."

He was then asked to explain the deal with Morgan-Burrows and admitted that he had purchased a car from them the fall of October, 1932. He said that the coal he had sent down to them had been from the yards of the Vance Coal company and in substantiation of this statement produced a receipt.

On cross examination Mr. Patterson said: "You bought this car the fall of 1932?"

"Yes sir, I did."

"How do you come then that this receipt which is a duplicate, is dated as of March 15, 1932?"

This statement produced a minor sensation in the room and Butler said there must be some mistake.

Calvin Matthews arose in the back of the room and said he had hauled the coal from Vance's on March 15, but this still left the variance in dates. Logan then asked for a continuance in order to get more proof, pleading that they had only heard of the Morgan-Burrows charges the afternoon before. The commissioners granted the request.

M. B. Hogue was called merely to testify as to how the records were kept in the welfare department.

The hearing closed about 4:45 with a further session of the hearing promised at a date satisfactory to all concerned.

McMillin Disappointed By Springtime In The Rockies

Any one who wants an argument out of James J. McMillin, in the future can get it by singing "When It's Springtime In The Rockies." McMillin who is on a tour of the northwest arrived in Spokane, Washington, after a trip through Montana in a blizzard that was one of the worst he ever saw. Dipping over the Continental Divide the weather got colder and at Missoula, Montana, the cold was intense.

McMillin intended to leave

Spokane for Portland, Oregon and from there his plans are indefinite. The weather in Washington was bright and warm he said, but the memory of his trip through Montana blizzard was ameliorated only by the thoughts of the ham and egg dinners one can get in that state for a quarter.

Business seems to be on the increase in the northwest he said, and a survey of the managers of twenty stores in the district showed a marked increase in the month's business.

Italian Airmen Start Training For Epic Flight

Group Of 100 Italian Airmen
Start Three Weeks Of
Rigid Training

Will Not Be Allowed Visitors; Must Concentrate
On Atlantic Flight

By GUGLIELMO EMANUEL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

(Copyright, 1933, by International News Service)

ORBETELLO, Italy, May 17.—One hundred Italian airmen, who will participate early next month in the epoch-making seaplane flight from Italy to the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, went into almost monastic seclusion Tuesday.

For three weeks they will be closely confined to barracks at the great airport here, denied permission to receive women visitors, even their families.

Concentrate Minds.
Gen. Italo Balbo, air minister, who will command the flight, desires that all their thoughts shall be concentrated on the impending hop across the Atlantic. Hence their preparation will be spiritual as well as technical.

From now on every minute of the day will be devoted to scheduled lessons and trial flights over Lake Orbetello or conferences on the problems to be encountered on a route that will carry this great air armada as far north as Labrador before it comes to rest on Lake Michigan.

The training will be done on seaplanes practically of identical design with those to be used on the actual flight but these planes will not be turned over to the pilots until nearly the moment of the hop-off so as to be in the best possible condition after tests by official experts under the full responsibility of the manufacturers.

Watched By Trawlers.
Along the sea route across the north Atlantic several British trawlers have been chartered by the Italian government to be spread out at intervals to render aid to any seaplane that is in distress. Each trawler will carry three Italian air-force operators to act as navigators, meteorologists and radio operators.
Several submarines will also cooperate, watching the route and minimizing the risk of accident.

The trawlers and submarines which are to be posted nearest the American side have already sailed to take up their posts.

If all goes well the 24 seaplanes making the flight will hop directly from Iceland to Labrador without a stop at Greenland. Italian mechanics are already in Iceland picking sheltered fjords where the planes may be brought down.

The continued increase in steel production is likely to produce a cycle. Railroads which haul steel are the heaviest purchasers of steel rails. They are likely to place the largest orders in two years within a few weeks.

Acacian Brotherhood and the K. M.
T. were represented by Attorney
Clarence A. Patterson.

Not a Court Trial.

At the opening of the hearing Mr.
Lockhart announced to the crowd that this was not a court trial, that it was merely an investigation by the county commissioners to determine the truth or falsity of charges that had been made against Butler.
He then asked Commissioner Elders to administer the oaths to the witnesses.

Paul Jacobs was the first witness called by the complainants. He testified that he had been employed as a coal trucker in the county fields in 1932 but that prior to that he had been employed as a night watchman at $3.50 per week. When he was a night watchman he said that Butler had always cashed his check for him and given him the money in cash. There was never any shortage in his money then, he said.

In October, 1932, he started trucking coal and said that Butler forced him to pay $5 per week to hold his job. Asked how he had been paid the matter Jacobs said that after a pay Butler would say to him "haven't you forgotten something." Jacobs testified that when he quit paying Butler the $5 per week he was let out as a trucker. Later he went to Butler's house and asked for more work. Butler told him there was nothing doing just then, but that he "needed a linoleum for the kitchen." "Were you ever called back to work?" asked Patterson.

"No," replied Jacobs.

On cross examination Jacobs said that a man named Woodrow had talked to him about making out an affidavit concerning alleged irregularities. Asked by Logan what man Butler had used when first he allegedly asked for money Jacobs said "he said that if I kicked in he would make it worth while."

It was at this point that Solicitor
Lockhart was forced to call an officer to maintain order as the crowd of spectators in the hallway were laughing and talking in such a loud tone that it was difficult to hear the testimony.

Harkless Testifies.

Thomas Harkless was called and said that he had been employed at the coal fields for eight months and 15 days. He testified that he had hailed coal to Joseph Hahn on East Washington street but that the name given him on the slip was that of C. Y. Miller. Harkless said Butler had told him that the coal was for repairs on his (Butler's) car.
Harkless also testified that he had borrowed $2 from a gasoline man to loan Butler to pay interest on a note in the bank. Butler then had asked Harkless to pay the interest and to tell the bank that he (Butler) was sick and would get the bondsmen to sign the note later.

Harkless also testified that he had purchased five pounds of sugar, a cake of yeast and a gallon of wood alcohol for Butler. He testified that he was usually short a little in his pay but admitted that this was probably just a clerical error. One pay he said he was long $5 and drew Butler's attention to it whereupon Butler told him that it was "all right, it's coming to you."

On cross examination Harkless stated to his story. Asked if Hahn had ever dug coal at the field he said he had never seen him and that the coal delivered to Hahn was county coal. He also testified to having delivered coal to Mrs. Cope, which she had told him (he said) was in payment of services rendered in cleaning house. He said he had no regular delivery card for her.

His son, Thomas Arthur Harkless, who does all the elder Harkless book work for him, was called and corroborated the testimony of his father.

Thomas Berea Testifies.

Thomas Berea was called and said he had hauled coal for a week.
He called Butler, he said, to ask for additional work and Butler said to him, "have you been paid?" Berea said he had, whereupon Butler said to him, "anything for me?" Berea told him there wasn't and that Butler already owed him $19.70 for a coal bill. Berea said he never got any more work at the field.

Lewis Ritchey was called and said Butler had insisted upon ten per cent of his earnings, but that Butler had never come to him and asked for it. Ritchey hauled three weeks and was laid off. He denied that the layoff was for drinking.

W. N. Trussell was called and said he had started to haul coal in the middle of October, 1932. Butler told him he was to get 10 per cent of the money given Trussell and Trussell said he had never come to him and asked for it. Ritchey hauled three weeks and was laid off. He denied that the layoff was for drinking.

In November, 1932, Trussell said
Butler came to him and asked him to come to the court house and testify at an investigation. He said Butler wanted him to testify that he had never paid Butler anything.
"I didn't go because I had paid him," said Trussell.

"Did you receive any telephone calls about this hearing?" asked Patterson. Question objected to and sustained. Patterson explained there had been a number of mysterious telephone calls to Trussell asking him not to attend the hearing.

On cross examination Logan asked:
"Did you ever have any arguments with the county commissioners?"

"Are you trying Butler or me?"
parried Trussell.

He finally admitted some argument but said that was before the county coal field work started.

Bought a Car.

Paul Burrows of the Morgan-Burrows company was called and said that on October 31, 1932, Butler had purchased a used car from them.

"How was it to be paid for?" asked Patterson.

"By a cash payment of $15, a coal payment in the value of $15, $50 advance on an old car and a note for $70."

"Did you ever get any coal?"
"Yes, one load went to my home and it wasn't much good. Another load went to the garage and I guess it was all right—that stove will burn anything." Burrows said he understood that Butler was to get the coal from the Vance Coal company, but that he had no knowledge of where it came from.

This completed the testimony of the complainants whereupon District Attorney John S. Powers, who had been sitting as an observer, arose and asked if there had been any new testimony offered, other than was offered at an investigation last fall.
"Yes," said Solicitor Lockhart.
"The investigation last fall fixated out. We had little testimony and this was broken down. This is all new."

Butler Presents Defense.

Butler's defense then started, with Earl Jay as the first witness. He said that he had been working in the coal fields for a year or so, but had never been asked nor had he ever paid Butler any money. He said he had been in Butler's house when Paul Jacobs was there and had not heard the entire conversation but had heard Butler say "I don't want anything from any of my truckmen." He admitted that he had not been laid off as were the other truckers.

Calvin Matthews was called and said he had been in the kitchen of Butler's home and had heard Jacobs say he wanted to make it right with Butler, and that Butler had said he didn't do business that way. He testified that he had made as high as $48 per week working as a helper in the coal fields.

On cross examination he said he had worked with Sam Frey and other truckers. "Isn't it a fact," said
Patterson, "that Butler required Frey to hire him?" "I don't know that," said Matthews. Patterson endeavored to bring out the fact that Matthews was a regular caller at the Butler home but both Logan and Butler objected in a strenuous tone.

Lockhart then took up the questioning. "You say you made as high as $48 per week at the coal field?"
"Yes, sir."

"How long have you worked at the fields?"

"About a year."

Hahn Testifies.

Joseph Hahn was called to rebut testimony of Thomas Harkless and said that he had received coal from the county field but that it was coal he and his son had dug out there.
He denied ever having received a pound of coal for repairing Butler's car and said that every pound he received was coal that had been dug upon a county order.

Miss Ruth Butler, daughter of Mark Butler, testified that she had heard Paul Jacobs offer to fix things with her dad in their home, but that Butler had said he didn't do business that way.

C. Y. Miller testified that Harkless had apologized to him for using his name in an affidavit when it was a lie. Harkless later made a corrected affidavit in which the name of Hahn was substituted for Miller.

Earl Jay was recalled and said Lewis Ritchey had threatened to get even with Butler.

William Hogue was called and said that he had heard W. N. Trus-sell threaten to "make things hot for some of them down around the court house."

Butler Testifies.

Mark Butler then took the stand in his own defense.

"Did you ever take any money from any trucker at any time?" he was asked.

"I never did," was the reply.

"Did you ever make any demands for money from them?"

"I never did."

He was then asked to explain the deal with Morgan-Burrows and admitted that he had purchased a car from them in the fall of October, 1932. He said that the coal he had sent down to them had been from the yards of the Vance Coal company and in substantiation of this statement produced a receipt.

On cross examination Mr. Patterson said: "You bought this car in the fall of 1932?"
"Yes sir, I did."

"How does it come then that this receipt which is a duplicate, is dated as of March 15, 1932?"

This statement produced a minor sensation in the room and Butler said there must be some mistake.
Calvin Matthews arose in the back of the room and said he had hauled the coal from Vance's on March 15, but this still left the variance in dates. Logan then asked for a continuance in order to get more proof, pleading that they had only heard of the Morgan-Burrows charges the afternoon before. The commissioners granted the request.

Mr. B. Hogue was called merely to testify to how the records were kept in the welfare department.
The hearing closed about 4:45 with a further session of the hearing promised at a date satisfactory to all concerned.

Washington Gets Twenty-Seven Hits

Senators Drop Cleveland Out Of First Place With Barrage Of Hits

Pittsburgh Pirates Trim Phils And Remain In First Place

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 17.—The 1933 epidemic of low-hit games means little to the Washington Senators, who clinaxed a remarkable batting spree by making 27 hits in taking the wildest game of the season from Cleveland yesterday, 11 to 10, in twelve innings.

In their last four games the Nats have amassed a total of 66 hits and scored 35 runs, an average of approximately 16 hits and 9 runs per game. Catcher Luke Sewell, normally a light hitter, started an amazing spree in St. Louis, where he got five hits on May 8 and four the next day. During his streak the veteran collected 16 hits in 31 times at bat for a mark of .516.

Kuhel Wins Game
Sewell, Joey Kuhel and Cecil Travis, rookie infielder recalled from Chattanooga, clouted five hits apiece yesterday. Kuhel's single with the bases full in the twelfth inning broke up the game, which lasted three hours and 24 minutes. Thirty-three players, including eleven pitchers, got a workout. In all 43 hits were made, Cleveland getting 16. With 21 runs being pushed around the bases and 28 players stranded on the sacks, umpires Van Graffan and Owens became little more than traffic cops.

Cleveland dropped below the idle Yankees into a tie with Washington for second place in the American league race.

Browns Win
In another extra-inning affair, the St. Louis Browns nosed out the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 2. Catcher Marvin Shea, recently traded by the Sox to the Browns, made a successful debut with his new club by singling in the eleventh and scoring the winning run on a hit by Reynolds.

Another rookie, Joe Mowry, former Minneapolis outfielder, got off to a flying start with the Boston Braves by smacking a triple and a single that helped the Braves beat Cincinnati, 6 to 3. Huck Bette went the route for the winners while the Reds used two recent additions to their hurling corps, Paul Derringer and Jack Quinn.

Pirates Top Phils
The league-leading Pirates continued their sloppy fielding, making three errors against the Phillies, but pitcher Bill Swift refused to let his mates kick the game away and subdued the Quakers, 8 to 0.

Brooklyn On Top
Brooklyn pulled another winning ninth inning rally, nosing out the Cardinals 6 to 5 on Johnny Frederick's fourth straight single. The victim of the uprising was "Dizzy" Dean, the megaphone man, who in an exclusive interview last winter predicted he would win sixty (60) games for the Cards this season.

The Yankees, Tigers, White Sox and A's were washed out.

He's a Pro, Now!

Jules Ladoumègue

Jules Ladoumègue, French mile runner who holds the accepted world record for the distance, 4 minutes 9.5 seconds, is pictured winning his first race, in Paris, since he was declared a professional in March, 1932, and banned from participation in the Olympic games.

Babe Ruth Is About Through

Before Summer Is Finished Ruth May Be Just Pinch-Hitter With Yanks

HAS LOST HIS BATTING OPTIC

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 17.—They do say that amazingly obstinate man named Ruth is very near the end at last; so near, in fact, that they're not sure whether he's so bad because he's been ill or so ill because he's through. Another thing they're not sure about at this time is just how near may be the inevitable day of reckoning when the Ball Club must decide whether it will be less expensive to take Ruth out of the line up and lose a few customers or keep him in and lose the pennant.

Some say the Yankees must get both Ruth and Joe Sewell out of there or the club is finished; others are not so positive.

Doesn't Need Rest

Meaning, the management is admitting nothing. Mr. Joe McCarthy, who admits nothing over very prolonged periods, even seemed shocked to learn today that there was any question about Ruth's ability to continue as a result. He also denied a claim that Ruth might be asked to "take a rest," a polite and refined phrase meaning a lot of things it doesn't say.

"Rest?" said Mr. McCarthy, indignantly. "We've only played nine games in the last two weeks. Ruth doesn't need a rest. He's just getting a late start. He got a late start last year, didn't he?"

Nevertheless, there is the testimony of an American League manager that "the Yankees would miss Combs far more than they would Ruth" likewise the evidence of fellow players that, with a single exception, Ruth has been strangely lifeless since the start of the season, although this might be accounted for by his health and the weather, both of which have been bad; also the guarded admission of a man with the club that, everything considered the Yankees probably would be a better ball team with Ruth out and Fred Walker in.

The lone high spot in the man's record this year came recently in an exhibition game at Indianapolis where the weather turned suddenly warm. Simultaneously, Ruth went suddenly crazy, hitting one ball a distance of 500 feet on the carry; another of 400 feet, with carry and roll, and a third that almost shouted as it tore out to the fence in right-centerfield.

Pinch-Hitter

That night, Ruth was transformed. He was openly jubilant and talked of playing next year. But the listeners gravely shook their heads. They knew, or at least suspected, that he'll do well enough of he isn't pinch-hitting for the pitcher before the end of the year.

When that happens, the finish is liable to be right in front of him. He'll get suddenly old, very old, sitting there in the shade and thinking of the days that were.

MY FACE ALWAYS SMARTED AFTER SHAVING, BUT NOW

"I know my face needs a special kind of blade —and I've found it!"

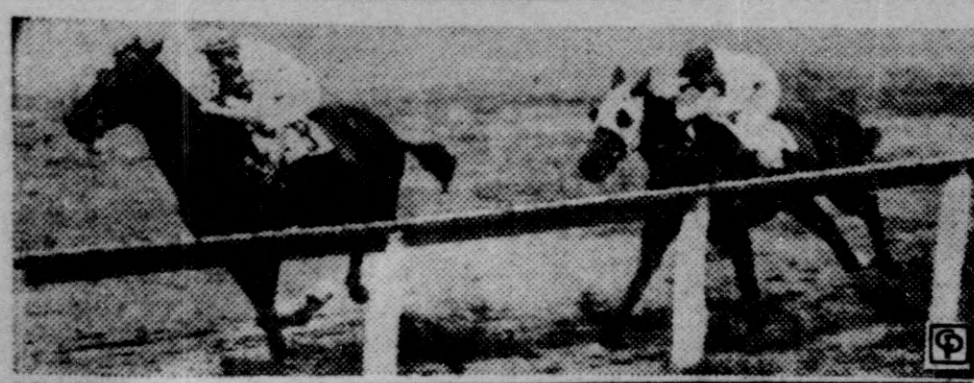

"MY BEARD is tough as spruce and grows like a weed. I've got to shave close and shave often. I used to dread the job. The razor scraped and scraped as I bore down to get the bristles off clean. My face always smarted—felt bad and looked worse. But those days are gone for me.

"A friend recommended the Probak blade—and I tried it. I never knew a blade could be so gentle. Now I don't need to press on the razor. My face never smarted, and I get a smooth, comfortable shave every morning!"

If your face ever smarted after shaving —if your beard grows in swirls or the grain runs cross-cross—Probak is the blade for you. Use Probak and the tender, hard-to-shave spots should never trouble you. The reason is easy to understand.

Probak is unlike other blades —from steel to finish. It even feels different. The edges are especially tempered and honed for hard service—sharpened to shave wiry bristles with ease. Switch to Probak—and enjoy matchless comfort from now on.

Kuhel Wins Game
Sewell, Joey Kuhel and Cecil Travis, rookie infielder recalled from Chattanooga, clouted five hits apiece yesterday. Kuhel's single with the bases full in the twelfth inning broke up the game, which lasted three hours and 24 minutes. Thirty-three players, including eleven pitchers, got a workout. In all 43 hits were made, Cleveland getting 16. With 21 runs being pushed around the bases and 28 players stranded on the sacks, umpires Van Graffan and Owens became little more than traffic cops.

Cleveland dropped below the idle Yankees into a tie with Washington for second place in the American league race.

Browns Win
In another close extra-inning affair, the St. Louis Browns nosed out the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 2. Catcher Marvin Shoen, recently traded by the Sox to the Browns, made a successful debut with his new club by singling in the eleventh and scoring the winning run on a hit by Reynolds.

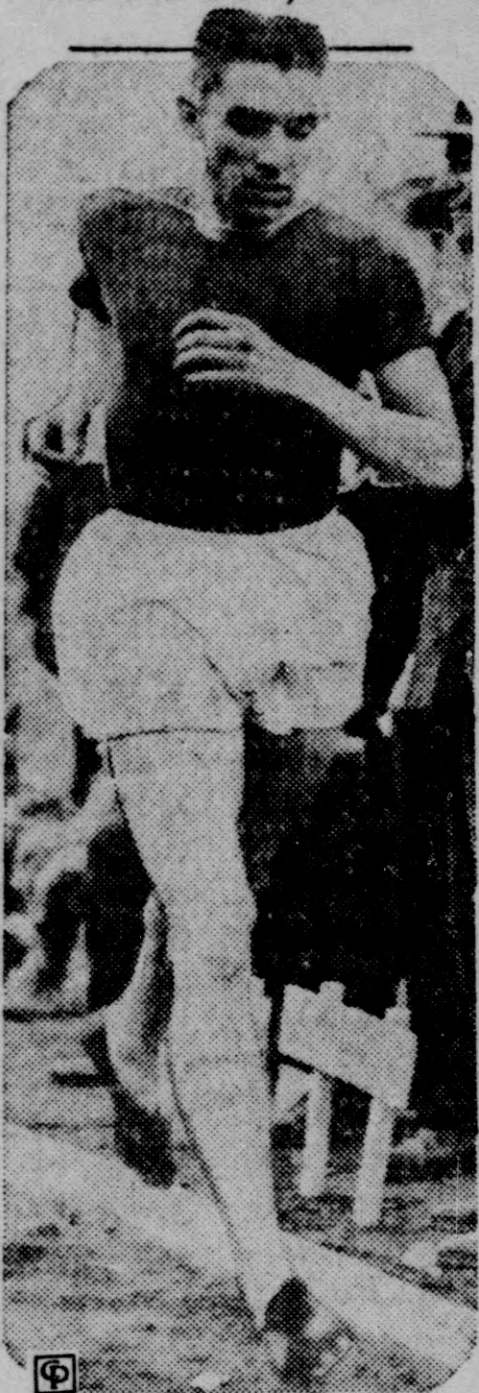

Another rookie, Joe Mowry, former Minneapolis outfielder, got off to a flying start with the Browns by smacking a triple and a single that helped the Browns beat Cincinnati, 6 to 3. Huck Betts went the route for the winners while the Reds used two recent additions to their hurling corps, Paul Derringer and Jack Quinn.

Pirates Top Phils
The league-leading Pirates continued their sloppy fielding, making three errors against the Phillies, but pitcher Bill Swift refused to let his mates kick the game away and subdued the Quakers 8 to 4.

Carl Hubbell, mound ace of the Giants, kept his club right at Pittsburgh's heels by taming the Cubs, 4 to 1, for his fifth win of the year. And New York's fourth straight triumph, Pat Malone lost the game in the first inning when he was touched for two hits, yielded three passes and two runs and was yanked after getting only one batter out.

Brooklyn On Top
Brooklyn pulled another winning ninth inning rally, noosing out the Cardinals 6 to 5 on Johnny Frederick's fourth straight single. The victim of the uprising was "Dizzy" Dean, the megaphone man, who in an exclusive interview last winter predicted he would win sixty (60) games for the Cards this season. The Yankees, Tigers, White Sox and A's were washed out.

Babe Ruth Is About Through

Before Summer Is Finished Ruth May Be Just Pinch-Hitter With Yanks

HAS LOST HIS BATTING OPTIO

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 17.—They do say that amazingly obstinate man named Ruth is very near the end at last; so near, in fact, that they're not sure whether he's so bad because he's been ill or so ill because he's through. Another thing they're not sure about at this time is just how near may be the inevitable day of reckoning when the Ball Club must decide whether it will be less expensive to take Ruth out of the line up and lose a few customers or keep him in and lose the pennant.

Some say the Yankees must get both Ruth and Joe Sewell out of there or the club is finished; others are not so positive.

Doesn't Need Rest
Meantime, the management is admitting nothing. Mr. Joe McCarthy, who admits nothing over very prolonged periods, even seemed shocked to learn today that there was any question about Ruth's ability to continue as a result. He also denied a claim that Ruth might be asked to "take a rest," a polite and refined phrase meaning a lot of things it doesn't say.

Would Help Yanks
Nevertheless, there is the testimony of an American League manager that "the Yankees would miss Combs far more than they would Ruth" likewise the evidence of fellow players that, with a single exception, Ruth has been strangely lifeless since the start of the season, although this might be accounted for by his health and the weather, both of which have been bad; also the guarded admission of a man with the club that, everything considered, the Yankees probably would be a better ball team with Ruth out and Fred Walker in.

The lone high spot in the man's record this year came recently in an exhibition game at Indianapolis where the weather turned suddenly warm. Simultaneously, Ruth went suddenly crazy, hitting one ball a distance of 500 feet on the carry; another of 400 feet, with carry and a third that almost shouted as it tore out to the fence in right-centerfield.

Pinch-Hitter
That night, Ruth was transformed. He was openly jubilant and talked of playing next year. But the listeners gravely shook their heads. They knew, or at least suspected, that he'll do well enough of he isn't pinch-hitting for the pitcher before the end of the year.

When that happens, the finish is liable to be right in front of him. He'll get suddenly old, very old, sitting there in the shade and thinking of the days that were.

ECHO GIRLS
Echo girls midgetball team of New Castle will meet tonight at the home of Venus Moore, for an important discussion of the proposed team to be organized for midgetball playing this summer.

MY FACE ALWAYS SMARTED AFTER SHAVING, BUT NOW —

"I know my face needs a special kind of blade — and I've found it!"

"MY BEARD is tough as spruce — and grows like a weed. I've got to shave close and shave often. I used to dread the job. The razor scraped and scraped as I bore down to get the bristles off clean. My face always smarted—felt bad and looked worse. But those days are gone for me.

"A friend recommended the Probak blade—and I tried it. I never knew a blade could be so gentle. Now I don't need to press on the razor. My face never smarted, and I get a smooth, comfortable shave every morning!"

If your face ever smarted after shaving — if your beard grows in swirls or the grain runs criss-cross — Probak is the blade for you. Use Probak and the tender, hard-to-shave spots should never trouble you. The reason is easy to understand.

Probak is unlike other blades — from steel to finish. It even feels different. The edges are especially tempered and honed for hard service — sharpened to shave wiry bristles with ease. Switch to Probak — and enjoy matchless comfort from now on.

Hitler Speech Has Good Effect On Trading In New York Market

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—With Chancellor Hitler taking the hoped-for moderate stand in his speech before the Reichstag, the stock market swept upward 1 to more than 3 points today in huge dealings.

There was only a temporary pause in the first half hour as Hitler opened a speech denouncing the Versailles treaty but the list resumed its advance as the speech became temperate in the latest portions.

With the important business barometers of power and steel production registering further gains, the bulls threw huge buying orders into the list and the high speed ticker trailed most of the forenoon.

Leadership was provided by Allied Chemical, American Telephone and the rails. Allied hit 100 for the first time in nearly 3 years while Telephone went through to a new 1933 high on the hope the regular dividend would be maintained at noon.

Delaware and Hudson, N. Y. Central, Lackawanna and Atchafalpa led the rails up, many hitting new highs, as traffic reports indicated Saturday's loadings report might cross a year ago for the first time since the depression started.

Utilities were strong on the upturn in power output with low priced issues like American Water Works and Stone & Webster registering substantial gains. Consolidated Gas was up sizeably also.

Commodities were better while bonds were strong. The dollar recovered more ground against foreign currencies.

The whole market joined the rise as the upswing reached broad proportions in the second hour.

Five Are Injured When Auto Skids

Ohio Residents Hurlled From Machine, When Machine Leaves Road

Five persons were injured, none seriously, when the machine in which they were riding, skidded from the highway on the New Bedford road, several miles west of the city, Tuesday afternoon at 2:45, and crashed into a tree.

Two of the victims, William C. Duke, aged 25, and his wife, Rose E. Duke, of Clover street, Niles, O., were brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where they received treatment for their injuries.

Duke was badly bruised about the knees and sustained a bad contusion of the right hand, while Mrs. Duke received minor bruises and lacerations. They were able to leave the hospital at six o'clock last evening. Three others in the machine were slightly injured but were not admitted to the hospital.

The latter three gave their names to State Highway patrolmen who investigated the accident as Andy Patrone, 702 West Park avenue, Niles, Joseph Russo, 518 Mason street, Niles and Bellaco Anello, 26 Sheridan avenue, Niles.

Expect Many To Attend Dinner

Long Avenue Women Are Preparing For Large Crowd At Red Cross Event

It is expected that a large crowd will attend the dinner to be given Thursday evening, in the Central Christian church on Long avenue, by the ladies of the Long avenue sewing unit for the benefit of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross.

The committee in charge promises a fine dinner. One of the features will be a number of toothsome pastries articles peculiar to different nationalities, which will be made by the women of the district. Each will make a quantity of the cakes which are popular with the people of their own nationality.

Those who have not already secured tickets may get them at the church on Thursday evening. The dinner will start promptly at 5:30, so that those expecting to attend other events during the evening may be served promptly and given ample time to get away.

A. T. & T. Declares Regular Dividend

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph corporation today declared the regular quarterly dividend of $2.25 a share on the common stock. This action was in line with Wall Street expectations, and the stock had been outstandingly strong for several days in the session thereof.

The dividend is payable July 15 to holders of record June 20.

C. M. T. C. Group Meets Thursday

Local C. M. T. C. group will hold another of the series of meetings in the Armory on Neshannock avenue on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock with First Lieutenant P. A. Welsh in charge. The School of a Soldier will be conducted as usual.

B. E. F. Commander

MANHATTAN'S DEBS GO ROLLING DOWN AVENUE

In foreground, Betty Kip roller skating; background, left to right, Evelyn Watts, Joan Macomber, Gracia Neville, Helen Judge and Eugenie Crawford Greenley.

Manhattan is treated to the inspiring sight of its society debs rolling merrily down the avenue on roller skates or bikes. Betty Kip, one of the more popular skaters, is pictured roller skating in Central Park. She is practicing for a benefit race. These fair cyclists gave Park avenue a thrill recently as they pedaled merrily along. Reading from left to right, they are, Evelyn Watts, Joan Macomber, Gracia Neville, Helen Judge and Eugenie Crawford Greenley. The girls were on their way to a meeting of the junior committee to arrange a benefit tea dance.

SOCIETY GETS OUT ITS SEWING

This must be the type of bathing suit daughter was wearing when another admonished her not to get near the water. The suit, worn by the beautiful Marie Stevens, is of velvet. The wide-legged trousers are green and the waist is orange. The Mexican sombrero is favored as a sunshade. It was shown at a recent New York style exhibition.

Fish do not sleep. They rest by remaining quiet in still pools.

Just Among Us Girls

Society has whipped out its thimble, thread and sewing basket and gone to work to "make its own" clothes. Behold Miss Chastaine Cook and Mrs. James Williams of Atlanta, Ga., in dresses which they made themselves at a total outlay of 59 cents for material—plus the work, of course.

"Gentlemen, the Winnah!"

The man who gets caught in a breach of promise suit finds out a girl's heart is like a street car — "PAY AS YOU LEAVE."

Regional Meet Of City Unions

Interesting Session Of Reports And Conferences Is Held Tuesday In Church

The regional conference of the city Women's Christian Temperance union was held in the Central Presbyterian church Tuesday with the morning devotional period in charge of Mrs. J. A. Galbraith, whose topic was "Prayer."

Mrs. A. C. Bernard directed the music for the day and a short business period was conducted by Mrs. E. C. Morrow chairman.

Mrs. A. Street, representing the West Side Union spoke most aptly on "What Benefits We Have Received from Eighteenth Amendment." Mrs. Jennie Forquer reported the excellent work being done by Maxine Pitzer in the L. T. L. sponsored by the Central Union.

Mrs. E. C. Beahm spoke on "Criticism of our Youth" championing the young folks of today, saying they are most willing to work for the big issues of the day than ever before.

Mrs. T. A. Preston, president of the Frances Willard Union, gave some interesting and practical ideas on "The Best Methods of Collecting Dues." Mrs. June Bernard sang "Let Me Walk With Thee." Mrs. Mary Balph of the Highland Union had an inspiring paper on "What Is a Christian Citizen?" Mrs. Jennie Forquer had charge of the noonday prayer.

Afternoon Session

Mrs. C. H. Heaton led the afternoon devotional period and Miss Margaret Walker, county president, gave a talk on "What Benefits are Derived from a Regional Conference," after which the speaker of the afternoon, Attorney Mont Aliey, was introduced.

He urged the women to press on in their noble work and to train our youth, especially those of foreign blood, to become noble and useful citizens.

Mrs. Robert Huling, of Franklin, had two charming solos, accompanied by Mrs. Francis Clark

Collect, Burn 494 Tons Of Garbage

Four hundred and ninety-four tons of garbage were collected and incinerated during April, according to the report of H. M. Phillips, superintendent of the collection and burning of garbage here. The department is prepared for the prompt removal of garbage during the warm weather months.

In addition to the 494 tons, 200 loads of garbage were disposed of by non-city trucks and 300 barrels were also removed by other persons.

Hitherto the lag between increased prices and correspondingly increased wages has been about two and a half years. This consideration is entering largely into A. F. of L. reasoning concerning the prospect of early currency inflation.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Out in Hillsville, Walter Patterson claims to have found the world's safest baseball diamond. Located down on an abandoned quarry the youngsters can sock with all their might without danger of ruining somebody's front window or a porch box. And the umpire can't get away with any bad ones either for it's hard to climb the facing of that quarry.

One team that is looking for playing quarters is the new American Legion Junior baseball team. Gomer Emery, the chairman of the Legion Athletic Committee has been hunting a place where the Legionettes can play and so far hasn't found what he wanted.

The selection of the team is going on with the roster nearly full. Most of the youngsters are nearer the minimum than the maximum age for Emery is picking a team that will be together for a few years. All he wants is to top a national championship.

And some of the vets of other wars are wondering how things will be in this new forestry army. Whether they will chop down trees "by the numbers," whether they go into action in squads and if they will get slung with a .45 army.

A chap who does business with people in Canada got a surprise a few days ago. Depositing a Canadian check in a local bank he found that he got $1.11 for every dollar on the face of his check. Now who wants to write any checks on a Canadian bank?

Now that the park is going to open this summer, perhaps the repaving of East Washington street won't give the motorists a break. The repaving is completed to the far east, and the idea seems to be to come down towards the stretch starting at Franklin avenue. But whenever they stop, the work that has been done is a real improvement.

One Wallace Avenue resident is looking for the inventor of rock gardens. His better fifty per cent decided they would have a rock garden and that they would divide the work fifty-fifty, she would carry the seeds up and put them in place if he would carry the rocks.

And every time they are out driving, and an odd rock is spied, the gentleman has to get out and lug it over to the car and bring it back home with him.

MEN OVER 60 TO GET FREE FISHING

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 17.—After June 11, men aged 60 and more will be allowed to fish in West Virginia without paying a license fee, but hunting licenses will be required at the usual rates. The 60-year-old anglers are restricted to use of "hook and line." Women will be allowed to purchase state-wide hunting and fishing licenses for $1 instead of $3, the license fee for men.

Compensation Paid To Youth's Mother

Gets $9,263.35 As A Result Of Son's Being Killed In U. S. Service

R. J. Luckasha presented a petition in county court Tuesday asking to be discharged as administrator in the estate of John Salawa, also known as Jan Salowie. The decedent died in September 1918 while in the United States service, leaving an estate of $9,263.35, largely compensation received from the United States Government.

The petition showed that the money had been paid to the youth's mother, Jefferia Salowie, at Warsaw, Poland. The matter had to be taken up through the consulate at Pittsburgh and there were papers from the U. S. Consulate at Warsaw showing the money had been properly distributed. Luckasha has filed his final account and was discharged.

Prescriptions

"The responsibility of prescriptions is a measure of the wealth of a drug store to the physician and the community."

"The store enjoys the confidence of physicians and their patients, because we never have lost sight of the true function of the pharmacy, to dispense prescriptions as compounded only by registered pharmacists (Dr. J. C. McKinley & Frantz) because every drug is of pure potency (we use whenever possible Squibb quality chemicals and pharmaceuticals) and because every available device is utilized."

"And you'll find 'worth-remembering' what you have a prescription for in the store."

Collect, Burn 494 Tons Of Garbage

Four hundred and ninety-four tons of garbage were collected and incinerated during April, according to the report of H. M. Phillips, superintendent of the collection and burning of garbage here. The department is prepared for the prompt removal of garbage during the warm weather months.

In addition to the 494 tons, 200 loads of garbage were disposed of by non-city trucks and 300 barrels were also removed by other persons.

Hitherto the lag between increased prices and correspondingly increased wages has been about two and a half years. This consideration is entering largely into A. P. of reasoning concerning the prospect of early currency inflation.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Out in Hillsville, Walter Pattison claims to have found the world's safest baseball diamond. Located down on an abandoned quarry the youngsters can sock with all their might without danger of ruining somebody's front window or a porch box. And the umpire can't get away with any bad ones either for it's hard to climb the facing of that quarry.

One team that is looking for playing quarters is the new American Legion junior baseball team. Gomer Emery, the chairman of the Legion Athletic Committee has been hunting a place where the Legionettes can play and so far hasn't found what he wanted.

The selection of the team is going on with the roster nearly full. Most of the youngsters are nearer the minimum than the maximum age, for Emery is picking a team that will be together for a few years. All he wants is to cop a national championship.

And some of the vets of other wars are wondering how things will be in this new forestry army. Whether they will chop down trees "by the numbers," whether they go into action in squads and if they will get slumgullion a la army.

A chap who does business with people in Canada got a surprise a few days ago. Depositing a Canadian check in a local bank he found that he got $1.11 for every dollar on the face of his check. Now who wants to write any checks on a Canadian bank?

Now that the park is going to open this summer, perhaps the repaving of East Washington street won't give the motorists a break. The repaving is completed on the far east, and the idea seems to be to come on down towards the stretch starting at Franklin avenue. But wherever they stop, the work that has been done is a real improvement.

One Wallace Avenue resident is looking for the inventor of rock gardens. His better fifty per cent decided they would have a rock garden and that they would divide the work fifty-fifty, she would carry the seeds up and put them in place if he would carry the rocks.

And every time they are out driving and an odd rock is spied, the gentleman has to get out and lug it over to the car and bring it back home with him.

MEN OVER 60 TO GET FREE FISHING

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 17.—After June 11, men aged 60 or more will be allowed to fish in West Virginia without paying a license fee, but hunting licenses will be required at the usual rates. The 60-year-old anglers are restricted to use of "hook and line". Women will be allowed to purchase state-wide hunting and fishing licenses for $1 instead of $3, the license fee for men.

Compensation Paid To Youth's Mother

Gets $9,263.35 As A Result Of Son's Being Killed In U. S. Service

R. J. Luckasha presented a petition in county court Tuesday asking to be discharged as administrator in the estate of John Salawa also known as Jan Salowiej. The decedent died in September 1918 while in the United States service, leaving an estate of $9,263.35, largely compensation received from the United States Government.

The petition showed that the money had been paid to the youth's mother, the late Mrs. Jan Salowiej, who was taken up through the consulate at Pittsburgh and there were papers from the U. S. Consul at Warsaw, showing that the money had been properly distributed. Luckasha has filed his final account and was discharged.
